DENTON HIGH SCHOOL
DENTON, TEXAS
VOLUME SIXTY

The school year ends and we look back to the events that made it memorable. Each of us has found that certain activities and incidents have become the most important from this collection. To a Sophomore it could be Registration Day when he realizes that these unfamiliar buildings and new traditions will be parts of life for the next three years. Comfortable in their classification, Juniors perhaps remember most being eligible for the activities that are exclusive to Juniors and Seniors. A Senior might look back and relive the day that was his last as a student at Denton High School.

The Bronco staff has tried to preserve some of the special events. In the pages of this yearbook are pictures and thoughts that we hope will help you recall these memories more distinctly. Our goal during the planning and preparation of the Bronco has been to preserve each Brief, Shining Moment.

Buildings Reflect Vivid Thoughts

The shop building, located behind the main classrooms, is always a scene of activity for mechanical drawing, crafts, and agriculture classes.

Denton Senior High School brings back recollections to each student and faculty member who has shared learning experiences here. Within the school walls each individual has the opportunity to make use of the excellent facilities available. Time spent in classrooms, the band hall, shop or gym make up an integral part of student life. The campus unites diversified interests and aspirations of the present students. To graduates, the buildings symbolize past experiences, successes and defeat, joys and tears. Through the years, the administration gathers an accumulation of memories from the unceasing variety of daily occurrences. All these events and images merge so that our buildings hold a collection of "brief, shining moments."

of Moments, Days, Years

The main building of Denton Senior High School is a major focal point in the lives of every teen-ager in the community.

The center of planning, management and finance is the Administration Building.

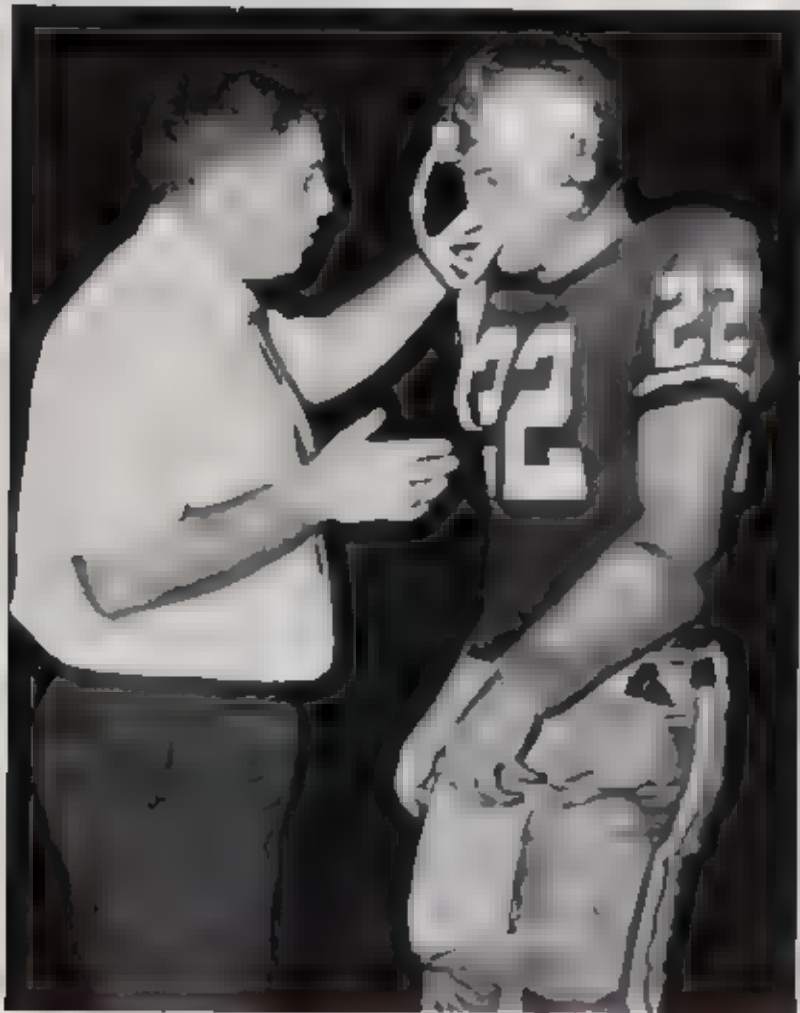

As the student takes time for reflection on the special memories he has accumulated throughout this year, he inaugurates the development of a picture of his life in relation to the school perspectives. Support of athletic events as a participant or a spectator accords a symbol of school spirit. The student attempts to gain indications of increasing maturity and an acquisition of knowledge from his experiences in high school.

From prevalent recollections, the student ascertains the especially important memories. These isolated moments will remain with the student throughout his life. Decisive victories, crushing defeat, parties and proms, newly acquired skills, class activities and cooperation are all different ideas to each person's mind. Blocks of time are the culmination of individual remembrances.

Isolated Moments . . .

Blocks
of Time

One Brief, Shining Moment

. . . one to be remembered for vibrant happiness
. . . or for special tears.

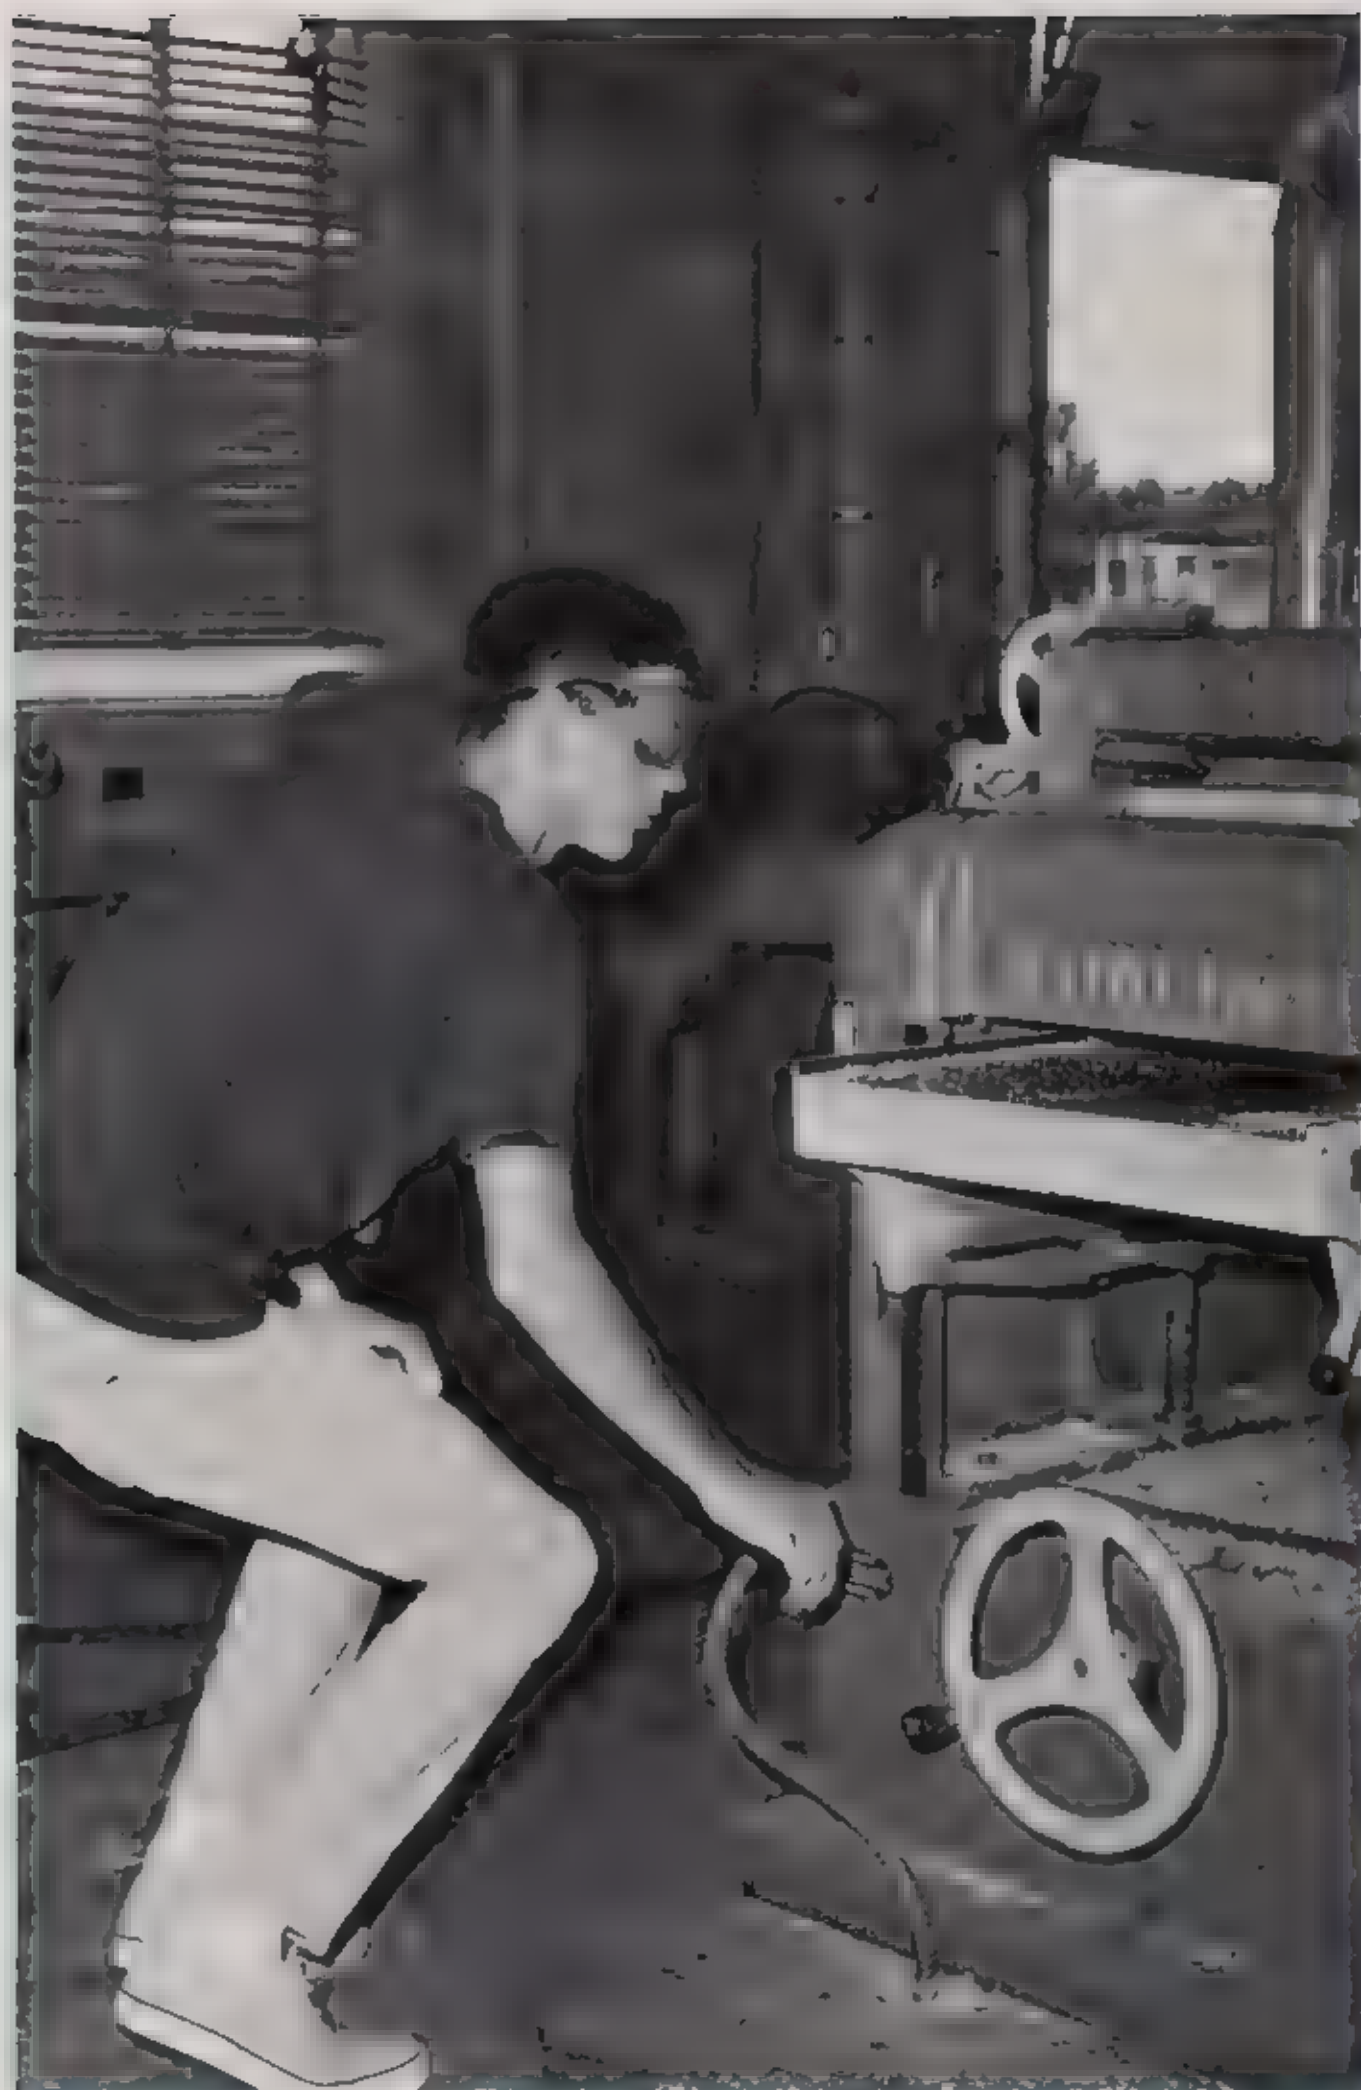

All of These

. . . a part of school
. . . a part of this year
. . . a part of us.

And each moment is so brief,
but still to be remembered.

School Activities Become Building

Kenneth Bartley, wearing protective goggles, runs a board through the planer to cut down the width of the board. Boys in shop have the opportunity to develop vocational skills and interests

Like all seniors, Marcy Bullington spends one period a day in a study hall. Using this time to the best advantage, she gathers information for her term paper from one of many encyclopedias available to students.

Enthusiastic Pep Club members Martha Wahlert, Lee Ann Rodgers and Sara Leith have mixed emotions about a play during the football game against Hal-tom City

Participation in the activities of Denton High School forms a lasting memory in the life of any student. This phase of student life is centered on group as well as individual achievement. Activities encourage participants to contribute to the success of school projects, gaining the rewards of personal involvement. Extra-curricular activities augment the social aspect of a student's life. They afford an occasion for making new acquaintances and for meeting with friends outside the classroom. Parties and special activities, though focused primarily on the enjoyment of the entire student body, hold a special meaning for each individual. These activities blend harmoniously in the intimate memory, creating many brief, shining moments.

Blocks of Student Life

Successful School Activities Originate

Summer workouts are a major part of the football training program. This early conditioning enables the boys to regain their athletic skills. Coach Carrico demonstrates a new play for the offensive squad.

Each summer, members of the annual staff attend the Workshop at Texas A&M. For the first time the Horseshoe staff also attended. Editor of the Horseshoe, Sara Leith, interviews noted athlete and holder of the world's record shotput during a newspaper journalist's forum.

Summer rehearsals are a necessity, as band members strive toward perfection in playing ability and marching precision.

With Summertime Planning

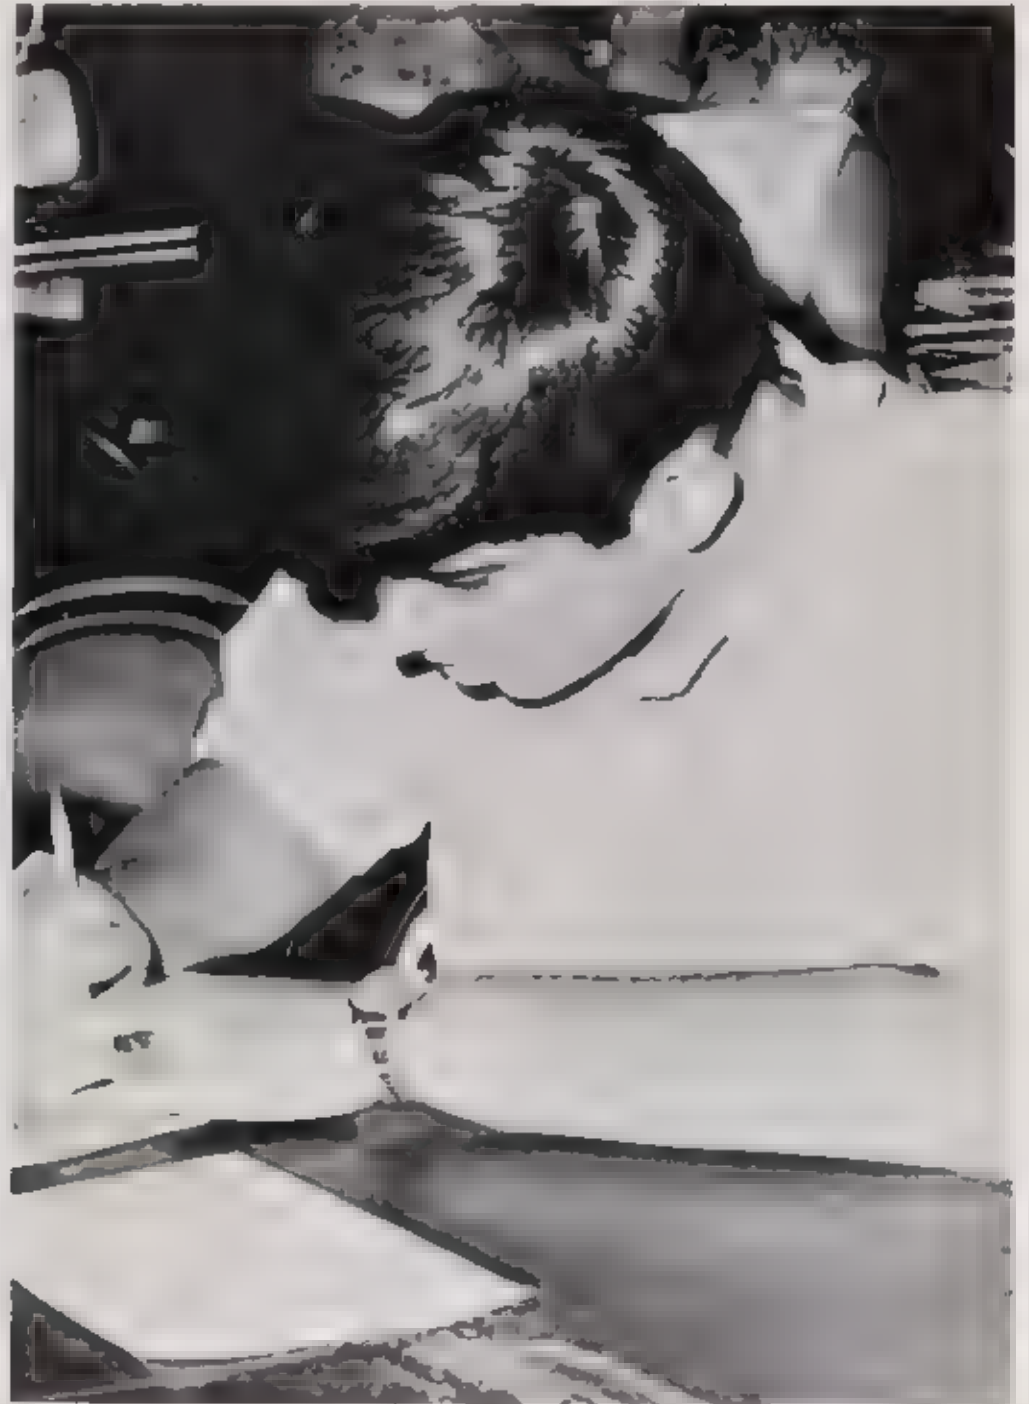

Preparing for the '67-'68 school year, active students devoted much of their summer vacation to workshops, conventions, rehearsals and meetings. Members of clubs and organizations outlined plans for the coming year's activities. Faculty members also spent many hours of their vacation at school as they prepared schedules to be programmed, and counseled students. Summer planning helps students to achieve their common goal, a better organized and enjoyable school year.

Lots of extra practice helped the Bronco cheerleaders to win many awards at SMU during the summer. The girls attended the cheerleading school to learn new yells, compete with other high school cheerleaders for awards and to practice routines for the school year.

Senior Ronnie Camp takes the aptitude test given during the summer to help him recognize his potentials in the various fields of learning, and to schedule his classes to better comply with his intellectual interests.

School counselors, Mrs. Kamma and Mrs. Holt, deliver the schedules to be computed by the IBM machines. The computers of N.T.S.U. were utilized in programming schedules of Denton High School.

Memories of Summer Fade as Acquaintances are quickly revived on the first day of school. Al Taylor relates an animated story to a classmate as Bob Harpool, Mike Redden and Lanny Hooper join in for more details

With the largest enrollment at D.H.S. ever, Registration Day created crowded halls and mild havoc this year. Mr. McNeely, addressing sophomores, juniors and seniors in an assembly, pressed his hopes for the ensuing school year. For the benefit of new students, he explained the rules and regulations governing school activities. The student council officers were formally presented to the student body. Student's schedules were organized by a computer at North Texas State University. This was a new method of scheduling classes to D.H.S. An advisory afforded students the opportunity to meet their new teachers and become acquainted with the daily routine.

Annual sales traditionally begin on registration day. Ronnie Camp waits to receive the correct change from Lonnie Foreman before writing a receipt. Members of the Bronco staff, Margaret Stapler, Mary Robertson and Jana Jones busily assist other students.

Excited juniors gather before the bulletin board waiting to get advisory lists, as Eddie Killian tries to locate his name and the teacher's room number.

Registration Day Begins School Year

Dixie Schulze asks Rhonda Sherrill her classification, while Clyde Chrisman informs Kay Kittrell that the Student Council is running out of pins

Denton High School principal, Mr. Clifton McNeely, delivers a welcoming address to the students in the crowded auditorium. Senior Becky Boynton, the Student Council secretary, listens attentively so that she will not miss changes in policy that have occurred during the summer

Sheri Venable pays her locker fee to advisory teacher Mrs. Wood, while Betty Walters, Diane Wells and Vanessa Van Maven patiently wait their turns.

First Week Concludes on Friendly Note

Mark Jones, the lead singer of the "Box Springs", pauses as the band plays a musical interlude during "Gloria". New and old students take advantage of the band's ability as they crowd the large dance floor

Sue Rainey and Danny Gafford enjoy the fast beat of the band at the Howdy dance, while faculty sponsors look for outstanding spirit and friendliness displayed by the students. For the first time, a D.H.S. party was held in the new Denton Civic Center. The facilities of the building provided an interesting variation from the tradition of having the parties in the high school cafeteria.

Janet Ferguson and David Thomason were chosen Mr. and Miss Howdy by the faculty.

During football season the Bronco band divides into two separate groups: the Purple Band and the Gold Band. This allows the entire band to participate in pep rallies by weekly alternation. Trumpeters, James Osborn, Donna Faris and Cheryl Kooker of the Purple Band help provide the needed atmosphere of spirit

Football boys, Glendon McWhorter, Earl Nuckles, Jimmy Martino, Joe Barns and Ronnie DeFoor return to their seats after Coach Whitson has introduced them to the DHS student body

Pep Rallies Encourage Team Efforts

In formation at the pep rally against Tyler, members of the pep club go through hand motions to add organized support from the student body.

Bronco cheerleader, Deborah Sharber, does pom-pom motions to the band music as the crowd cheers enthusiastically.

Exes, Students, Teachers Gather

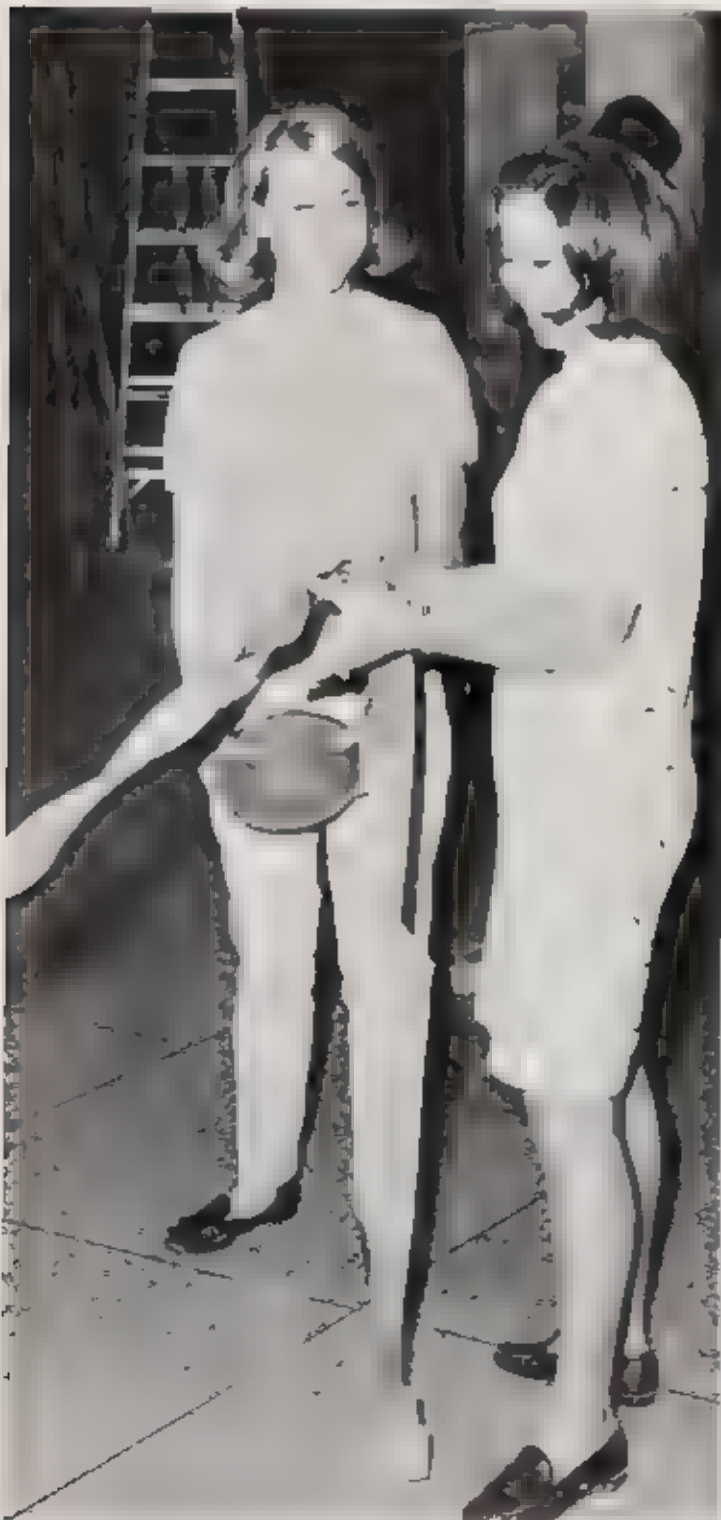

Nineteen Sixty Seven Homecoming Queen nominees. Julie Lew's, Becky Boynton, Dixie Schulze and Jan Nichols

The Student Council always plays an important role in Homecoming activities. Rhonda Sherrill watches to see that all Exes register, while Ann Sidor and Elise Durham pass out Horseshoes to visitors

Pat Moore relates to Ann Whitson the trouble she has been having trying to make sure that the crepe paper does not run out before she is ready to attach it.

It is a Denton High tradition that the football boys sit together during the Homecoming Assembly. Mitchell Merritt stops to talk with some of the Broncos before taking his seat for the program to Honor Denton High School

Among the groups entertaining during the assembly are the Folksingers. The Stage Band, Co-eds, and Chordsmen also performed. The stage was decorated to highlight the theme of the assembly which honored persons who graduated in the years ending with eight.

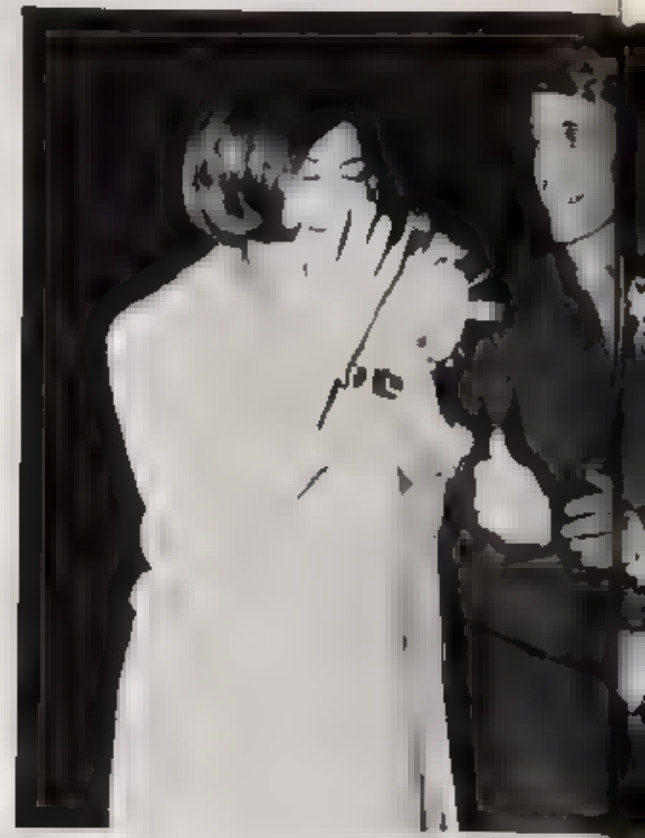

The student body assisted Student Council members with job of decorating the building for the week of celebration. Roy Appleton strains to attach a streamer to the top of a pillar as Vicki Venable waits, ready to hand him another.

Band students lead the Bronco supporters in the torchlight parade to the bonfire.

School Spirit Soars as

Nominees, Dixie Schulze and Jan Nichols are assisted by their escorts, Roy Appleton and Ray Drenner as they prepare to be presented to the spectators.

After a tie with Sherman, students and exes attended the dance which closed the week of festivities. Betty Burke and Johnny Eberly enjoy a pause during the band's break

Mr John Guyer, Former DHS principal, pauses to reminisce about his years at Denton High as his wife, Mr. McNeely and Mrs. Chrisman listen.

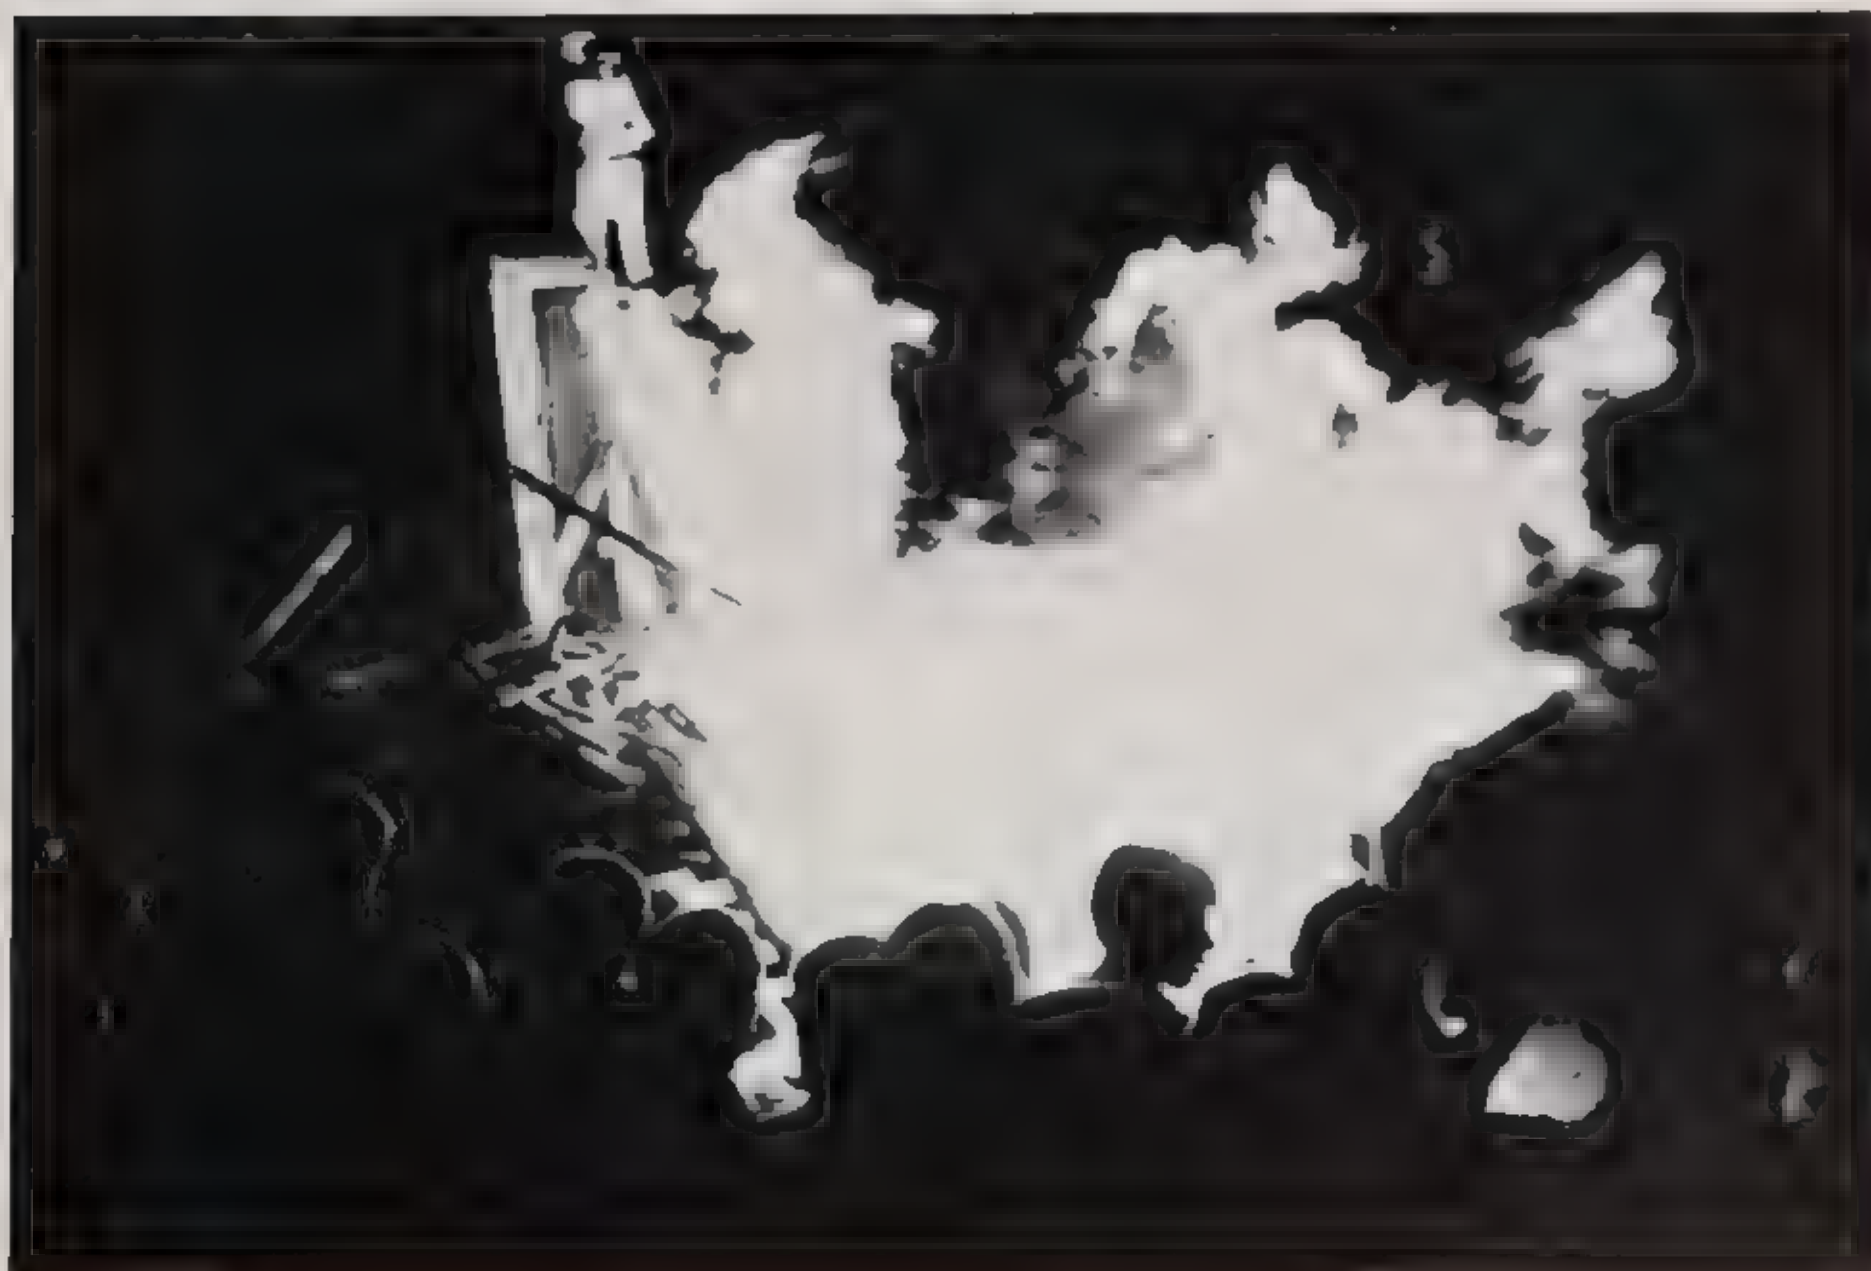

Homecoming Week Progresses

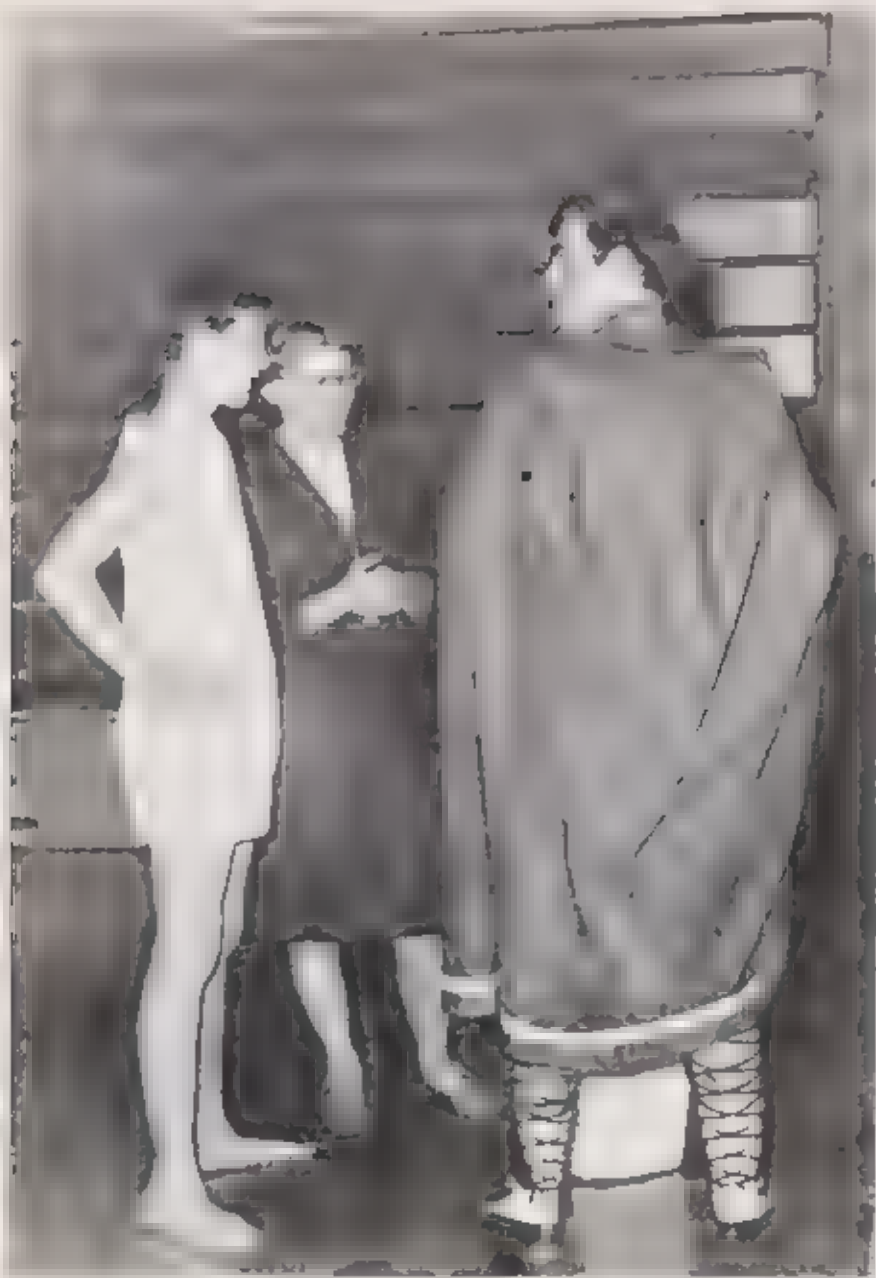

During the pre-game ceremonies, Becky Boynton releases happy tears of surprise as she is announced the 1967 Homecoming Queen. Student body president Dan Boyd officiates in the crowning and is the first to extend congratulations to the new queen. The formalities conclude with the traditional kiss from Becky's escort, Jim Mullinger, as nominee Julie Lewis and Steve Speck join the spectators in their applause.

Bronco fans watch as the effigy of a Sherman Bearcat is consumed by the leaping flames

Members Sold for Week of Service

Latin Club sponsor Mrs. Connell and slave Dave Woodling admire the costume of Don Smith for which he won third place for his costume in the state Latin convention last year.

A prize for the best slave dress is awarded to Jill Paterson at the conclusion of the sale. To the delight of the other slaves Jill displays her prize, a Bronco sweatshirt.

President Bill Brinkman auction first year Latin Club student Susan Lord to amused second and third year members. The slaves are owned for a week, the money from the sale goes to the club treasury.

Speech Classes Sponsor Sweepstakes Tournament

Each year Mrs. Hall and Dr. DeMougeot organize the Denton Sweepstakes Tournament. One of the largest such tournaments in Texas, Denton hosted 59 schools and 1200 contestants. The Thespians, the Speech Club, the Debate Club, NFL, and the Dramatics organizations all contributed long hours helping to make the tournament run smoothly. Mrs. Threadgill, one of Mrs. Hall's student teachers, played a major part in the planning and preparation of the tournament. Denton High School benefits from the recognition that the dedicated speech students are able to bring to it.

Finding some people that he had met at a previous tournament, Bill Scheef enjoys the time before the assembly. Denton students assisted the visitors by explaining where to find various buildings in North Texas.

The Honor Society took advantage of the crowds at Denton High by providing a bake sale for the visitors. Robert Caldwell helps a girl from Highland Park select the best cookies to take to her group.

Members of the speech classes worked all morning registering the hundreds of out-of-town visitors. Karen Friedsam and Kathy Reynolds work busily trying to catch up as more students join the lines.

Christmas and Favorite Decorations

Amusing Skits Present

Gardener Glenn Weaver strikes terror in the hearts of the flower children as he brings the cow to fertilize the D.H.S. Garden

On "A Visit to the D.H.S. Flower Garden," the student body encounters two lovely flower children, Julie "Julip" Lewis and Dixie "Daisy" Schulze.

The four flower children, Andy Pansey, Jan Jonquil, Ray Rhododendron, and Dixie Daisy, introduce themselves as D.H.S. Favorite nominees at the annual skit assembly

Bids for Favorite Honors

The heroes and champions of fairy tales live in the presentation of "Peter Dan." The immortal Stinkerbell, David Walker, is the constant companion of the legendary Peter Dan, Daniel Stanley

"Blah," exclaims Tiger Lilly Pad, alias Judy Jones, as she expresses her obvious disapproval of one of the D.H.S. Favorite nominees

Captain Cast and his first mate, Mitchell Merritt and Mark Morrow, conspire in an attempt to steal the carefully guarded list of Favorite nominees.

Serious Mood of Christmas Emphasized in Assembly

Sue Clark and Joyce Buttrill put the finishing touches on their prize winning homeroom door decoration. Besides presenting a Yuletide theme, the decorations are to show imagination and beauty.

A serious approach is also needed for the Christmas Assembly. Drama and speech student Judy Naughton presents a thoughtful message on the meaning of Christmas.

As part of their yearly program, the orchestra performs during the Christmas Assembly. Seasonal favorites are presented in an imaginative, orchestral form.

Team Work Makes Decorating Easy

No Christmas party is complete without Santa Claus. Janet Ferguson and Mary Robertson stare in amazement as the jolly old man helps them finish the tree.

Janet Ferguson and Nancy Jones find that teamwork helps them get the top of the tree done faster. As Nancy hands Janet some napkins, Debbie Simmons asks for more of them so she can fill in some places on the bottom.

After the tree had been stuffed, Jana Jones and Ronnie Camp set about the task of getting the decorations ready to be placed on the tree. Ronnie, however, found it much easier to supervise Jana's work than to untangle the balls.

Favorites Presentation and Lively Music

As a change of pace, the Spokesmen slowed the rhythm to provide a suitable romantic setting. Peter Matthews, Sherry Glenn, Larry Blackman and Janie Patterson enjoy this change and catch their breaths for the speedier dances to come.

An added feature of every formal is the opportunity to have color photographs made of the memorable occasion. Ronnie Camp accepts the required fee from Robin Courtney while Al Taylor waits in line.

The lively beat of today's pop music set the background for the Christmas formal. Everyone enjoyed the exciting rhythms of the Spokesmen.

Accents the Christmas Formal

Becky Boynton's amazed response upon hearing her name announced as senior girl favorite brings delighted expressions of congratulations from senior boy favorite Sammy Gallo and nominees Jan Nichols and Julie Lewis.

Jim Walling, Jackie Webb, Ronnie Ray and Melody Crenshaw sit out one of the many dances at the formal while Ken Crenshaw searches for extra seats for friends.

Every year the art and annual students combine their efforts in creating a dazzling symbol of the Christmas spirit. The Christmas tree of this year's formal is pale yellow tissue decorated in gold.

The service staff at Denton High holds behind the scene responsibilities for keeping the school running smoothly. The cooks prepare and plan nutritious, well-balanced meals for each lunch period every day. The custodians keep the schools clean from day to day as well as waxing the floors and taking care of the furniture. They help the faculty whenever a teacher needs something done for a classroom.

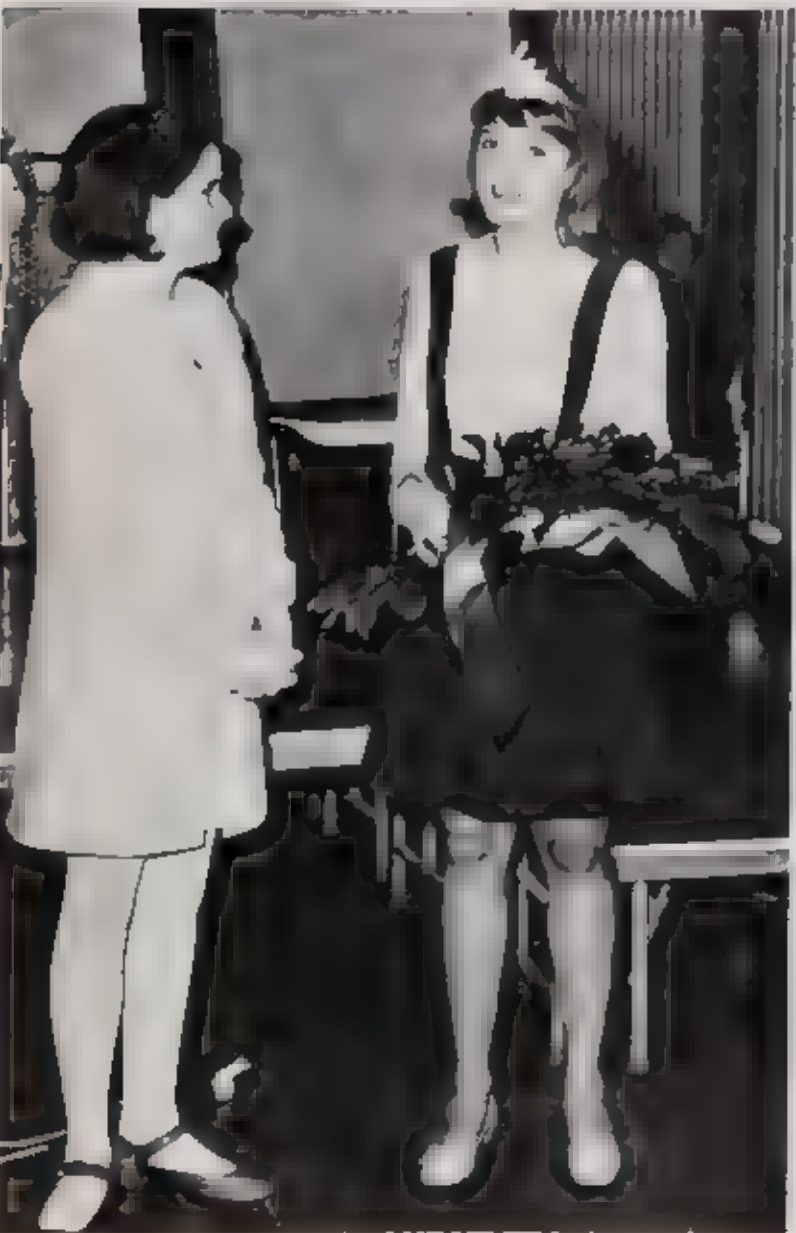

Nominees Doris Bullard, Judy Jones and Darby Barrow congratulate Connie Thompson on her victory. This is the first year that the queen has been voted on by the whole school.

Connie Thompson and her escort, Eddie Killian, leave the bandstand to join the dancers as they resume the fast pace of the evening

Basketball Royalty Chosen by Student Body

Darby Barrows beams her approval of the selection of Connie Thompson as Basketball Queen. The nominees were selected by the team.

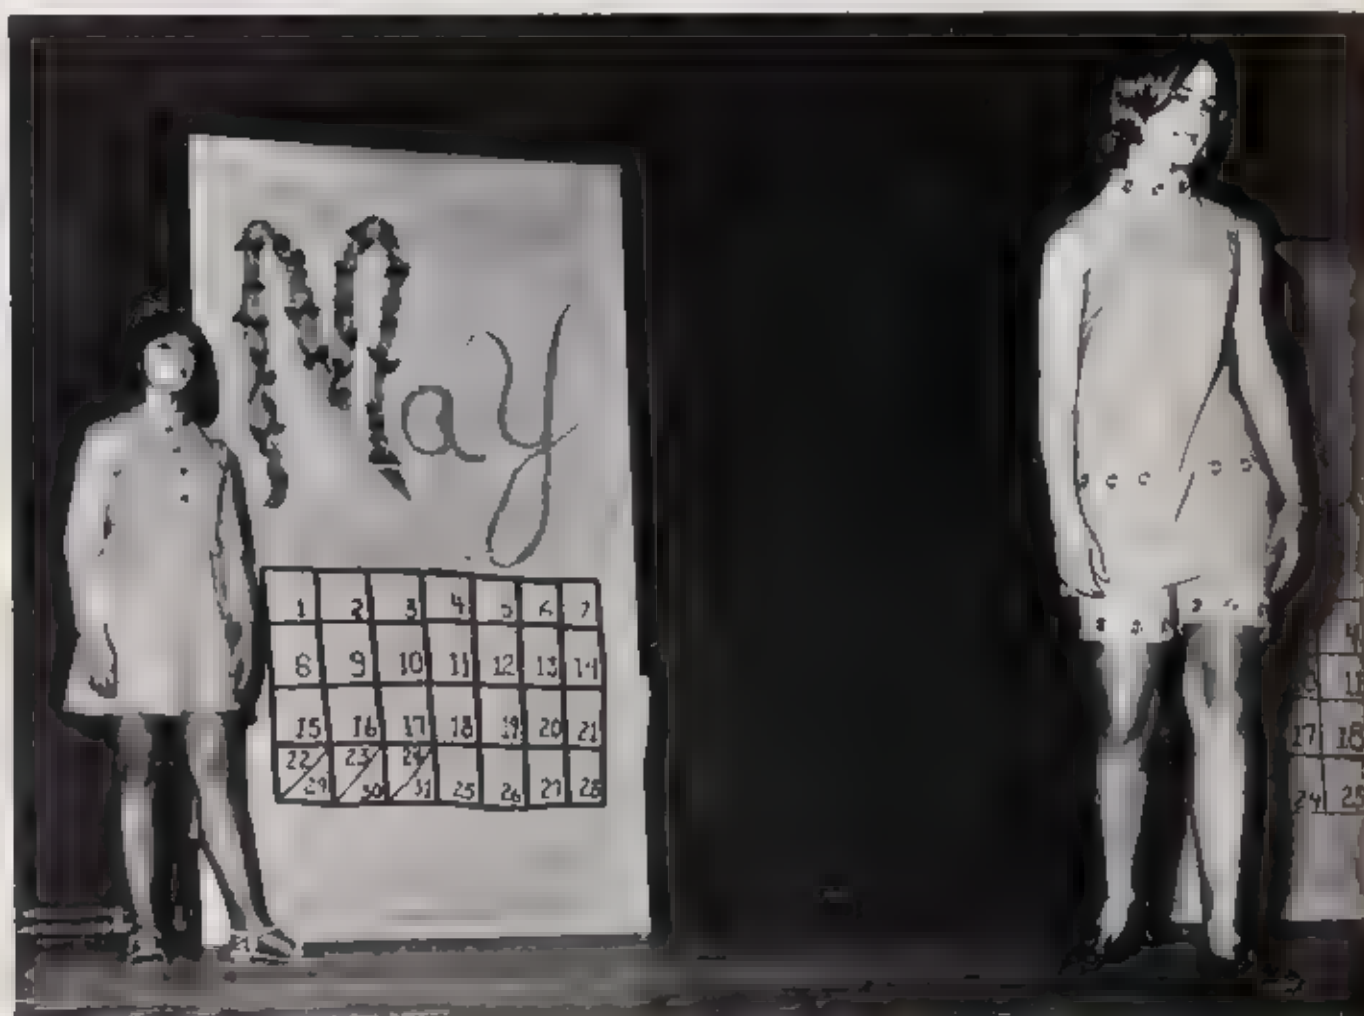

The G's psychedelic light show and rousing lyrics inspire many dancers such as Glenn Weaver, Linden Galyon and Debra Culpepper to exert all their energies.

Nike Club Fashion Show Entertains Girls

Members of the Nike Club decided that a fashion show would help them gain membership for the club and provide an interesting and enjoyable project. With the assistance of Tritt's Fashion Bar and their sponsors, the girls were able to prepare an entertaining afternoon for D.H.S. girls. The colorful calendars which served as backdrops were prepared by the school. Mrs. Nelson offered piano music during the program.

Mrs. Grider explains to the audience the purpose of the Nike Club and the reasons it was formed at Denton H'gh.

Connie Thompson and Jo Lynn Belcher model short outfits. The girls each modeled several different costumes, all of which were good for the summer months.

Sports minded girls enjoyed the ensembles worn by Brenda Bradford, Jane Jenson, and Kathy McAfee.

Juniors' Plans Begin With Senior Rings

Mr. Ramsey, a Balfour Company representative, aids a junior in determining her ring size

Lynn Yarbrough admires a ring that he is trying on. Each year juniors can order rings through the school

Donna Faris tries to decide which color of stone she wants in her senior ring, while Mr. Ramsey gets out a specification blank

At the Thanksgiving assembly, the Denton High stage band, directed by Mr. Norman Lang, presents several lively pieces. Formed just last year, the stage band has become an important addition to the school

Dr. Charles Jarvis, nicknamed "the flying dentist," jokes about trends in hair for men. He is a noted speaker and humorist in the Southwest. He appeared at D.H.S. in a special assembly.

Assemblies Bring

The Coeds, a girls choral group, sing a selection entitled "On a Clear Day" for the talent assembly

Karen Friedsam, editor of the '68 Bronco, states requirements for becoming a member of the staff, during the sophomore orientation assembly

Variety to D.H.S.

At the Homecoming assembly, the D.H.S. majorettes perform a twirling routine while the stage band plays a number by the Tiajuana Brass

High Offices and Awards Earned

All-region band members for this year are: Kneeling: Glen Turner, Kerry Geer, Dick Waddell. Standing: Mike Mordecai, Bill McMath, Andrew Rekey, Cheryl Orr, Chris Webb, Dick Woodling, Dave McGuire. Waddell, McMath and McGuire also received chairs in the All-State band

Elise Durham has been elected vice-president of the Texas High School Press Association for next year.

by Students in School Programs

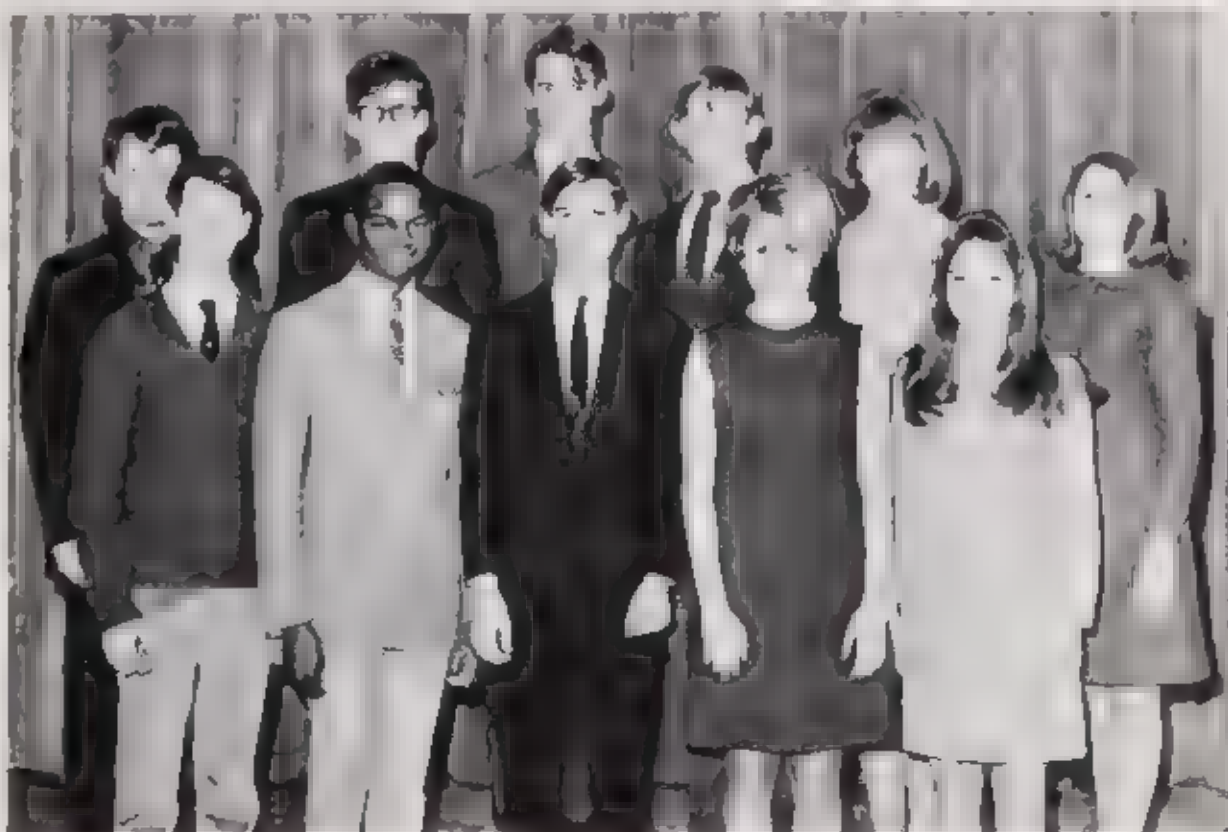

Bob Davis has been cited as one of the outstanding high school students in English in the country. The National Council of Teachers of English has named him a 1967 national winner in its annual Achievement Awards competition. He was requested to write an article for The Rostrum, the National Forensic League magazine. He published "The Concept of Significance" in the February issue of the magazine.

For the first time in the history of the Key Club, the divisional Lieutenant Governor has come from the same school for two years in a row. Mike Mordecai, 1967-68 Lieutenant Governor, prepares Randy Minnis for the following year's business.

First row: David Anderson, Fred Rodgers, Mike Smith, Martha Wahert, Judy Jones; Second row: Bob Davis, Rick Sale, Kenny Yarbrough, Eddie Stapleton, Judy Naughton and Diane Gulden have all earned three or more first places in individual and other events.

During the year, special recognition is given to groups and individuals who have achieved excellence in both scholastic and extracurricular fields. Denton High School's Speech, Choir and Band have taken many awards through individuals involved in their programs, as well as school service clubs. The trophies, pins and plaques are well-deserved symbols of talent, patience and hard work.

Perfection Is Spurred by

Nancy Nelson, Jo Elaine Taylor, Paula Ellis, Robbinne Dutson and Judy Jones listen to Mrs. Hall's tips on their one-act play, "Pygmalion."

Organization is an important factor for debaters at a tournament. Having information at her fingertips enables Sharon Lyons to prepare excellent speeches and rebuttals.

Students competing in extemporaneous speaking draw topics and use their personal files to prepare speeches. Diane Gulden and Mike Smith utilize the thirty minutes allotted to plan and rehearse by taking notes and practicing their deliveries at the Westchester Tournament.

Competition in Tournaments

In Sonora, the speech students stayed in private homes. They gathered to attend the barbeque sponsored by the school. Dan Boyd, Kenny Yarbrough, Eddie Stapleton and Fred Rodgers enjoy the banquet.

Members of the one-act play cast and the stage crew set up the scenery before the Brownwood performance.

Jr. High Joins National Honor Society

Officers of the D H S. chapter of the National Honor Society, Debbie Kiracofe, recording secretary; Marcy Bullington, corresponding secretary; Jim Moellinger, president; Ray Drenner, vice-president; and Bill McMath, reporter, present the framed authorization of membership in the National Society to Denton Junior High's president, Richard Hayes.

Secretary Marcy Bullington explains the fundamental need for scholarship in Honor Society and clarifies the system of selecting members before she lights the candle representative of scholarship.

The ceremonial candles of the National Honor Society represent scholarship, leadership, character and service. Ray Drenner completes his role in the program by lighting the candle of character.

"S" Club Sponsors State School Dorm

Refreshments were served after the game session. Mary Robertson prepares the fruit punch beforehand so she can serve on time

New "S" Club member Karen Friedsam assists three interested students in preparing the record player for some sounds in popular music.

Games such as "Simon Says" entertain the students at the State School. President Sara Leith follows directions from a student leader hoping she won't be caught off guard.

Fun Featured at February Formal

Dixie Schulze, Student Council secretary, introduces the 1968 Valentine Sweetheart nominees and their escorts: Darby Barrow and Barry Orr, Decca Guyer and Jim Hamilton, Judy Jones and Zak Gibson, Molly Merritt and Gary Morris and Jo Elaine Taylor and Willie Edwards.

Numerous Honors Are

The Distributive Education Banquet is held each year to honor business employers participating in the DE program. Mr. and Mrs. McNeely and Janice Favors are served appetizing plates by the waiter

The school year of 1968 saw many honors bestowed on the numerous organizations at Denton High. A popular form of acknowledgement was found in special dinners. Denton High's chapter of the FFA hosted a district banquet during which awards were presented in recognition of outstanding agricultural achievements. DECA members honored their employers in a banquet which expressed their gratitude for cooperation with the organization. In keeping with the year's major project, the theme of the annual band banquet was "Bound for Corpus." Medals were awarded to the winning squad, and officers expressed hopes for first division ratings at Corpus Christi.

The Chapter sweethearts are presented at the District FFA banquet. One is selected to represent the district in state competition. Denton's entry is Gloria Calvert (number five)

Bestowed at Club Banquets

The district FFA banquet, held in Denton, was attended by future farmers from 13 area schools. During the presentation of awards, James Kincaide sits with Mr. Rylander and James Roden, who is the area supervisor of vocational agriculture.

Joyce Buttrill, assistant sergeant, and Jack Browder, sergeant of Squad 11, accept the annual "Gomer Pyle Trophy." This "trophy" is customarily presented to the losing squad which has received the most demerits during the year.

Traditionally, members of the band are served in order of rank at the banquet. Mr. McMath heads the line, followed by the captain, lieutenant, sergeants, and the winning squad.

Play-offs Create Frenzy of Excitement

Ann Boyd, Sharon Taylor, Glendon McWhorter and Randy Groves express the common feeling of tension during the last moments of the third game in the two out of three series

The enthusiasm of cheerleader Martha Stott is shared by the student body at the first district play-off game at the North Texas gym

The basketball boys and coaches board the chartered bus as they leave for the bi-district game at Kilgore

Rick Dennis glances around to see who should be the recipient of his super-snowball.

Butch Yarbrough menacingly approaches an unsuspecting student, seeing in him a prospective target.

Snow Fights Provide Break in School Routine

Gilbert Martinez joins in the fun by participating in the snowball fight before school.

Different Phases of Music and Drama

For a change of pace, a string quartet from DHS's orchestra presents a piece entitled "Six Serenades." Members of the group, Bill Black, Margaret Durrance, Abigail Miller and Casey Black concentrate on their music.

Renee Fox, Carolyn Collins and Nina Young harmonize in their selection "Nocturne." The trio are all members of the Girls Glee Club.

"What Now My Love," sings Ricky Dennis for his solo. He is a member of A Cappella Choir and the Chordsmen.

Hold Attention of Enthusiastic Students

"Strangers in the Night," a popular favorite, is sung by Nancy Seitz. Her high soprano voice and original interpretation captivates the audience

Judy Jones, as Rhoda, struggles to free herself from the grip of her horrified mother, Judy Naughton, who has discovered her daughter's evil acts. The pair enacted tense scenes from a play, "The Bad Seed."

Colorful oriental jackets are the trademark of The Brutes, a high school combo. Danny Gafford, Gary Dunn, David Tipps and Lindy Wilson perform "Dear Eloise" for the enthusiastic audience.

Candidates Present Plans for Student

Candidate for president of the Student Council, Eddie Stapleton, delivers his campaign speech, stressing the need for financial improvement.

Advisory teacher, Mrs. Brunner, collects the completed ballots of her sophomore homeroom class. Only sophomores and juniors vote on student body officers.

Joyce Buttrill, hopeful candidate for corresponding secretary, lists her qualifications and responsibilities for the office.

Council to Juniors and Sophomores

Expressing their views and ideas, Student Council candidates presented their objectives on the betterment of student body relationship toward its school. The sophomore and junior classes combine their votes to elect officers to lead the Student Council of next year.

Eligible students submit both an application and nominating speech to be approved by Student Council sponsor Mrs. Yarbrough, class teachers and Mr. McNeely.

Surprise and elation show on Shelton Pendarves' face as he hears that he is the newly elected vice-president of the Student Council

The atmosphere is tense as the nominees await the announcement of the new student council officers.

Classes Offer

The cafeteria is a favorite meeting place before school. Sara Leith and Billy Webster discuss the last night's basketball game against Garland.

Mr. Favors explains a fine point of law through an anecdote in his government class.

Paul

Charles Moss and Sally Cline add up hours on practice cards for students in their band squads.

Diversified Studies

Gordon Sallee uses the library to read during his study hall. The library is always busy with students studying and doing research

Calisthenics are a daily routine in boy's gym class. After 50 jumping jacks, everyone is happy to hear the stopping whistle.

Mrs. Grider's fresh approach to health class has made all her students enthusiastic. She shows Larry Armstrong a paragraph on drugs to read

School Board Lays Plans

Superintendent
Denton Public Schools
Chester O. Strickland

An indispensable faction of the Denton Independent School District is the School Board. The elected members are responsible, concerned citizens of the community who meet monthly with Superintendent Strickland to discuss current problems. The Board approves all school trips, expenses, maintenance and facilities which

for Progressive Education

involve any of Denton's public schools. They are in charge of supervising the budget and are instrumental in gaining new courses for the schools. General management and upkeep of the Denton school system is the ever-challenging job of the capable School Board.

After years of careful planning by the school board, Denton's new junior high building is near completion.

Total Scope of D.H.S. Is

Mr. Clifton McNeely occupies the position of supreme authority and responsibility in Denton High School. Every plan, program and party is under his care. He coordinates student interests and curriculum, and has conferences with community businessmen, parents and faculty. Mr. McNeely is at the same time the most important figurehead and fan of D.H.S.

Clifton McNeely
Principal

MRS. GENZERWER keeps an account of the financial transactions of the school and the permanent records of each student's grades. She maintains an up-to-date budget of school expenditures including the special accounts for the numerous clubs and classes. As well as keeping permanent records, she sends out all student transcripts.

Charge of Administrators

Oran Spears
Assistant Principal

Mr. Oran Spears, assistant principal and athletic director, coordinates all sporting events throughout the year. This task requires checking schedules and confirming dates to ensure a complete athletic program for D.H.S. participants. He is also the person to whom students must go to receive tardy and absent excuses. In addition to these duties, Mr. Spears deals with any disciplinary problems which might arise during the school day.

In addition to her duties as personal secretary to Mr. McNeely, MRS. ANN ROBERTSON serves in keeping accurate attendance records of Denton High School for the state. In her services as Attendance Clerk, she records student absentees and keeps the official register. Mrs. Robertson is also qualified to give students with problems advice and counseling.

Business End of Education Well Supervised

Serving as Administrative Assistant to Mr. Strickland is MR. JOHN GUYER. He is in charge of the recently enacted programs which will aid the Denton School District. The adult education facilities are also under his guidance.

By carefully approving expenditures, MR. C. R. PAYNE, Business Manager of the Denton Independent School District, eliminates many of the financial problems to be dealt with by the administration. In taking care of the financial program, he supervises and records all costs and expenditures of the school system.

The capable secretarial staff of the Denton Public Schools enabled the business office to run with greater efficiency. Their duties include the keeping of accurate accounts of all transactions and organized files.

Seated: Miss Alta Francis—Secretary to the Superintendent, Mrs. Carol Ridens—Accountant, Mrs. Dorothy Brooks—Assistant Bookkeeper. Standing: Mrs. Alice Orgain—Secretary to Business Manager, Mrs. Sybil Elkins—Secretary to the Administrative Assistant, Mrs. Nancy Boren—Receptionist-Secretary.

Secretaries Handle Absentee Files

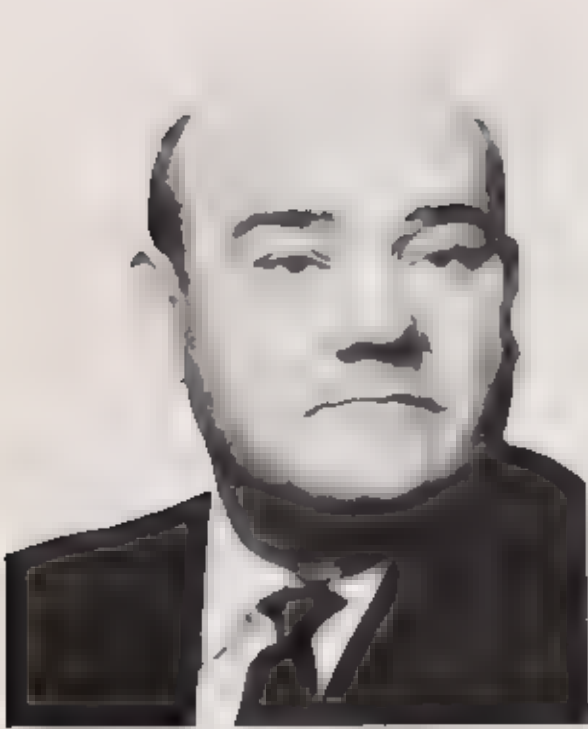

Keeping an accurate record of attendance is a painstaking and necessary job. Mrs. Wanda Steadman checks daily absentees, making note of them for the permanent files and for help in figuring the state monetary allotment for the school.

Mrs. Jo Adamson supervises the office workers each period. She keeps the files of student's classes and is responsible for recording hourly attendance. Mrs. Adamson is indispensable in giving directions and information and doing all the miscellaneous tasks that help run the office.

Frankie Farmer restrains his bull as he takes it back to the barn. The practice he receives working with animals during high school will be of valuable assistance during his career in agriculture.

Sammy Gallo, portraying Lennie, and Glenn Weaver, as George, discuss their future on the ranch they plan to own. The Dramatics Club presented an assembly featuring the excerpts during an assembly. The club offers talented students opportunities to increase their ability and to perform in competition.

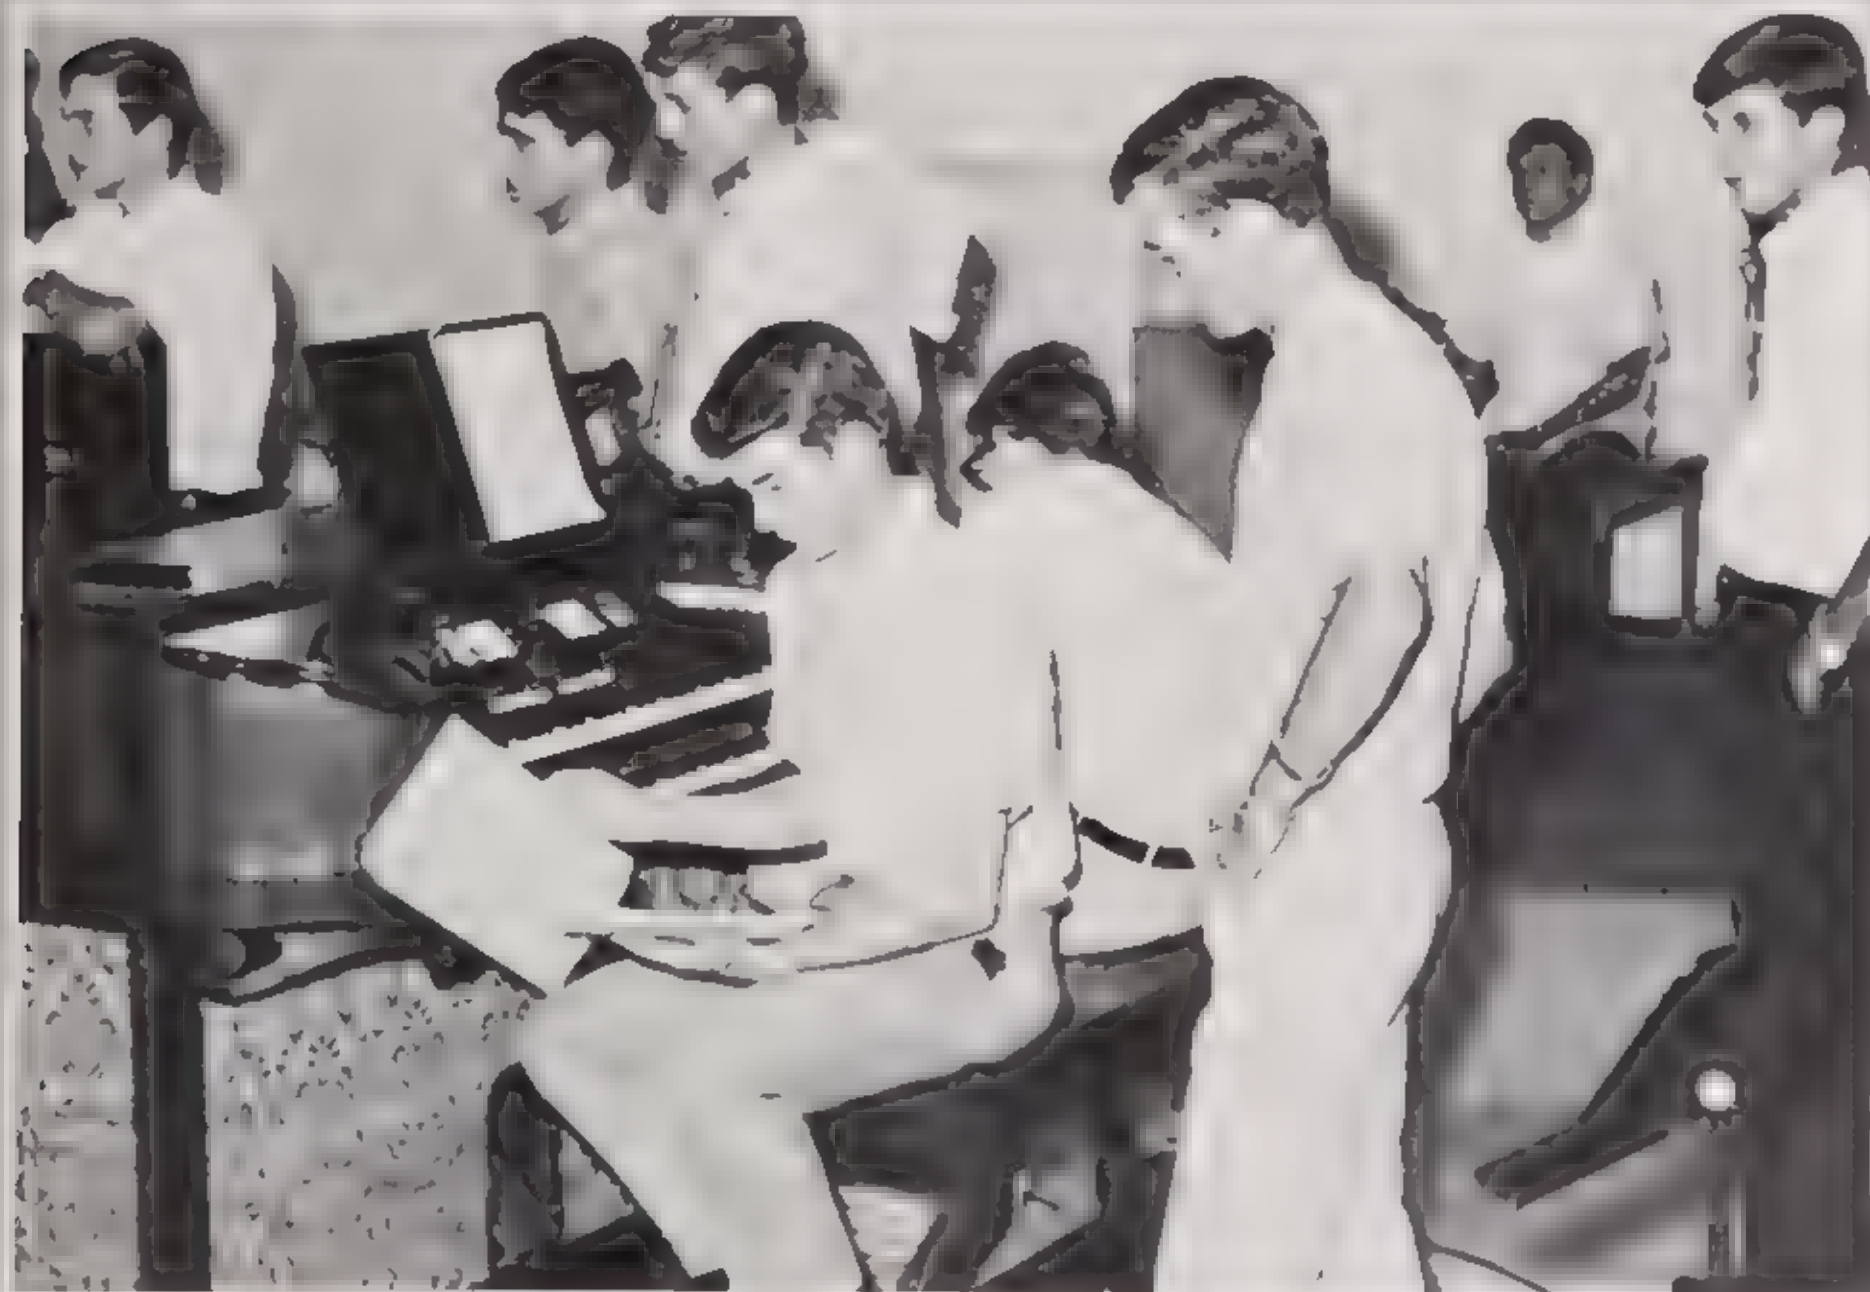

Organizations Offer Interlude From Routine

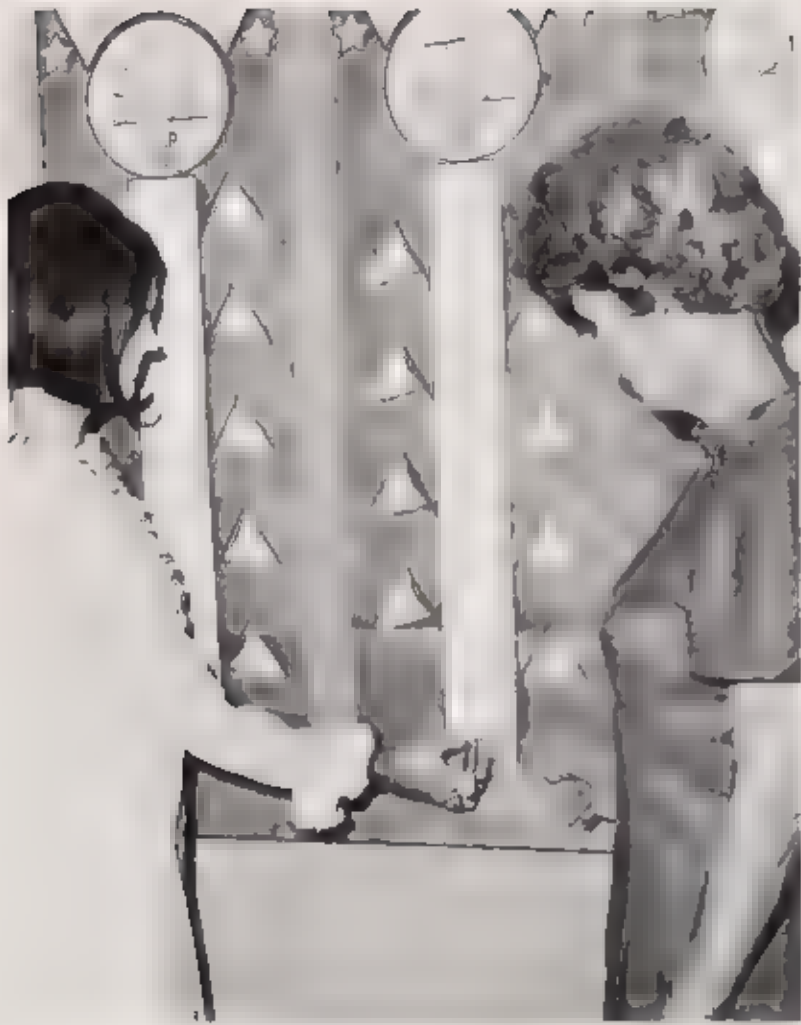

The Cheerleaders' unfailing spirit helps to inspire the Broncos and the fans. They are elected in the spring to serve for the next year. The Cheerleaders are an indispensable part of Denton High

Although a student's school life is focused mainly around his classes, the clubs and organizations which are open to the student, offer many enjoyable times. Much of the behind-the-scenes work for pep rallies, parties and plays are done by D.H.S. clubs. The opportunity to work with people who hold common interests adds to the appeal of membership in the various clubs. Serving the community, enhancing personal knowledge, and benefiting Denton High leaves the student's memory filled with many brief, shining moments . . .

To help spread the importance of the International theme and objectives, "Understanding Through Involvement" to other Key Clubs and the public, the Denton club produced a slide presentation accompanied by a taped commentary. Sitting around the organ provided and played by Division 8 chairman Les Mills, Denton Key Clubbers listen to the final product of their recording session in Dallas.

Student Council Initiates Varied

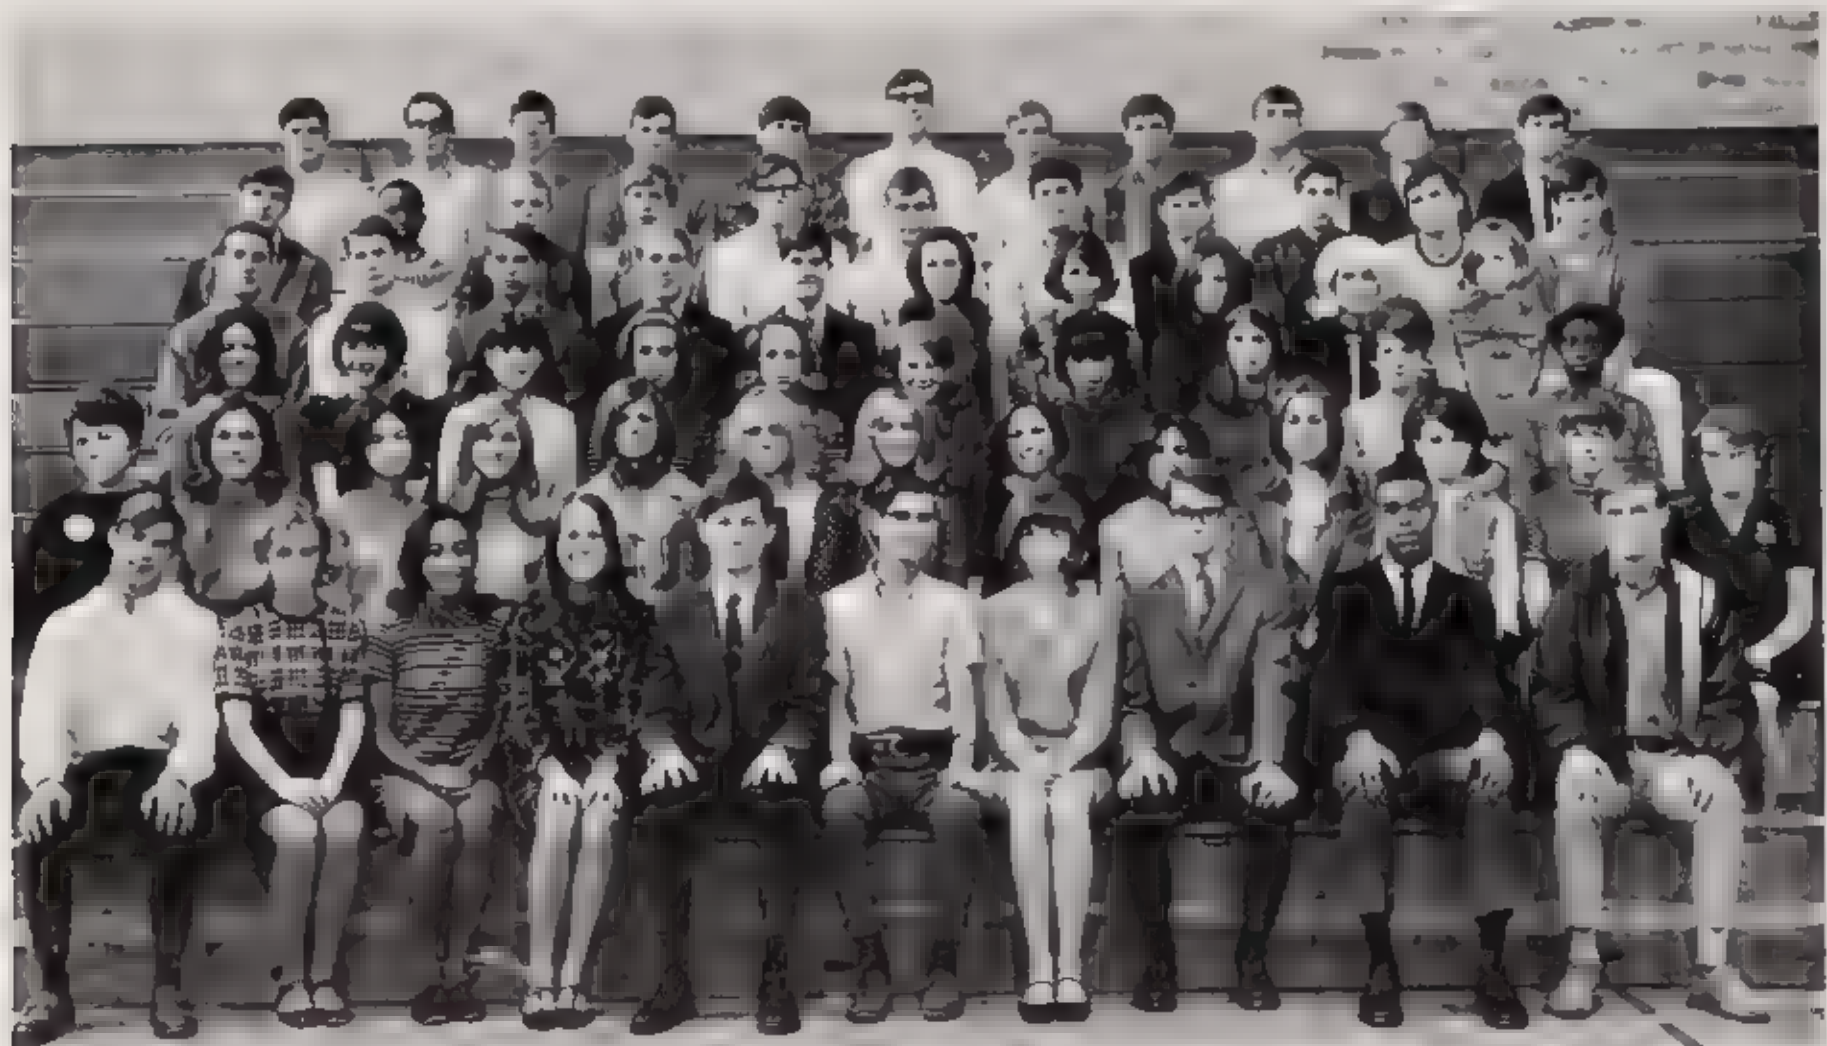

Corresponding secretary Dixie Schulze marks off the first advances of the Student Council's magazine sales project while Mrs. Yarbrough checks Dixie's accuracy.

At every Student Council sponsored dance, teachers give up their own time to offer students more enjoyment. Mrs. Price accepts Andrew Rekey's admission as Mrs. Yarbrough and Mrs. Jones discuss the evening's activities with Jack Browder.

Projects During School Year

A marquee sign for Denton High is the main goal of the 1967-68 Student Council. Magazine sales are the main source of funds. The Council has secured Denton's Civic center for dances and formals, providing a beautiful setting and a welcome change from the gymnasium. A new draft of the constitution written in a committee headed by Robert Caldwell is another project. A motion to run for the state office of parliamentarian was adopted by the organization. If Denton wins, a school-wide election will be held to choose the parliamentarian. Homecoming, Sock-hops and Teacher-Appreciation Week are some of the council's yearly projects. Another traditional goal is to strengthen teacher-student relationships as it works to better Denton High School.

Outstanding Achievements Recognized by NHS

The National Honor Society, a service organization whose main objectives are scholarship, leadership and character, is an honorary club. Students are elected into membership by the faculty of Denton High. Students are encouraged to improve their grades through hard work and active interest in the courses they are taking. The PSAT is offered to Honor Society members each year to help prepare them for the College Boards. This year the club sponsored a bake sale during the Denton Sweepstakes Tournament.

Guidepost for Key Club Projects

Guided by the International theme and objectives, "Understanding Through Involvement," Denton High Key Club has excelled to become this year one of the top three clubs in the Texas-Oklahoma District. Consisting of 40 members, the club strives to give service to school, community, nation and faith. With a slide and tape production of the theme, Denton attempts to spread the ideas of involvement throughout Key Club International. The goal of the club this year is attendance at the International Convention in Toronto, Canada. By involvement in all their activities, the Key Club hopes to gain greater understanding.

Members Develop Experience in Activities

In order to keep the student body informed of the affairs of the Key Club and to remind the members of activities and events, the bulletin board is changed regularly by members of a special committee

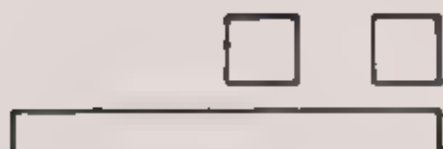

Fred Harrison awaits his turn at the microphone as Ronnie Camp reads an ad over radio KDNT. For their Radio Day project the members sold and wrote the ads to be read on the air. Later on that evening, the Key Clubbers took over the entire operation, not only reading ads but selecting and playing the records

Each month the Board of Directors meets to discuss past activities and to plan for the months ahead. At the first board meeting of the year, President Clyde Chrisman stresses the importance of preparing for the International Convention the next summer.

Reasoning Developed Through Debate Training

Students in Debate Club gain speaking experience and learn needed debating techniques which they use in competition. The Debaters attend various Speech Tournaments winning many trophies for their skills. The Club members also are an invaluable aid to Mrs. Hall, their sponsor, in making preparations for the annual Denton Speech Tournament. The many trophies that the Debaters win at almost every tournament attest to the excellence of the Club. Last year two members of the Club, Bobby Davis and Jim Bays, won first in State finals.

NFL Furthers Forensic Leadership

The National Forensic League enables its members to grow in leadership and in effective speaking ability. Training in leadership today for better leadership tomorrow is their motto. The experience gained through NFL helps its members to gain the ability to be more successful and more influential citizens. The tournaments held in the different parts of the state are always the highlights of the year. In December, the league sponsored a very successful Denton Sweepstakes Speech Tournament.

Realized for Aspiring Actors

The desire to express themselves through acting is the common tie of interest for the members of the Dramatics Club. By staging plays, each person learns the lessons of public performing that can only be gotten by first-hand experience. In addition to this, they study method acting, proper diction and stage techniques. The class does research into the writings and style of noted playwrights, in order to gain a working knowledge of suitable plays for different occasions. One-act play competition at speech tournaments provides the incentive for the drama students to perfect their roles.

Thespian's Experience Valuable Aid in Productions

Members of the National Thespian Society are students who have acquired a certain number of points gained by hours of participation in Speech or Drama activities. Thespians strive for excellent speaking and drama abilities and a better understanding of stage techniques through the help of their sponsor, Mrs. Hall. Members help, with their valuable experience, in the productions put on each year by the Dramatics classes.

Religious Council Directs Prayers and Devotionals

As one of the organizations at D.H.S., the Religious Council tries to better not only the spiritual disposition of the members, but also the other students. Prayers and devotionals given during assemblies are prepared and presented by members of the Religious Council. Announcements each morning are concluded with a scripture reading from the Bible by various members of the council.

Guest Speakers Inspire Future Teachers

To learn about the teaching profession, is the main goal of the Future Teachers of America. The officers meet weekly to plan programs, and the club members meet bi-weekly to participate in the club's activities. Guest speakers, well-known in the teaching profession, help them gain perspective into their future careers. Attending the State Convention is always the highlight of their year's activities.

Tryouts Determine Musical Groups

Adding an extra touch to assemblies and programs are special music groups. The Folksingers are comprised of students with an interest in folk music and play a musical instrument. The Co-eds and Chordsmen are chosen for their outstanding singing ability and willingness to work in these groups. They also perform for civic functions and churches. Mrs. Russell sponsors all three groups.

Talented Singers Polish Skills in

The A Cappella Choir at D.H.S. is a select group of students with singing talent. Each year try-outs are held, in which applicants must sight-read music and sing a selection. The choir performs for many school assemblies and outside programs. Participating in the musical program at the Texas State Fair and giving an annual spring concert are two main events for the A Cappella Choir.

The Bronco Band is one of the largest and most active organizations at Denton High School. Directed by Carroll McMath, the band has won innumerable awards in marching and concert contests. The members work year-round to provide entertainment for the school, including marching drills during the summer months. Performing for half-time at football games, playing at pep rallies and assemblies, marching in parades, and entering competition are all on the agenda of the band. In addition, each year the band sells candy to raise money for a trip to a music festival. This year it goes to the Buccaneer Music Festival in Corpus Christi.

Mr. McMath directs the band in a spirited number during an early football game in Irving.

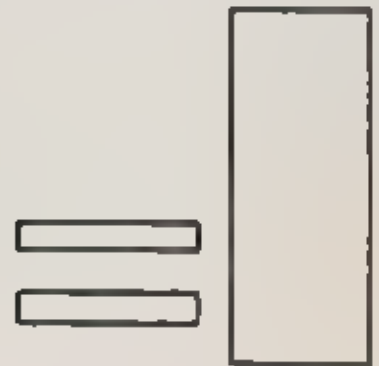

Two Concerts Presented by Orchestra

Each year the Denton Senior High School Orchestra displays its musical talents at the various assemblies, State Fair, and the Wichita Falls Meeting in March. Under the direction of Mr. Seale, the Orchestra, which is a regularly scheduled class, presented both a Winter and Spring Concert.

On-the-Job Training Enables

Distributive Education gives students the experience and training for marketing and distributing. A junior or senior who has half of his day free to work and can maintain a C average is eligible for D.E. In class discussions, students study situations that may arise while working. A candy sale and an Employer-Employee Banquet are sponsored by the club. The members compete in area and state contests. Students who participate in D.E. benefit from the knowledge and experience they gain while working with the public.

Rome Studied by J.C.L.

Stimulating interest in the cultures of ancient Rome and Greece is the primary purpose of the Junior Classical League. Members must be taking or have had Latin. Guest speakers, a state convention, and a trip to the Torch are the activities of the J.C.L. An annual event is the slave sale, when new members dress in Roman slave costumes and are sold to old members. Each person in the club receives a monthly newspaper, with articles from schools all over Texas, telling of the activities of their respective J.C.L. clubs.

The main objective of the Spanish Club is to foster an interest in the Spanish speaking people of the world. Through guest speakers and visitors, an insight is given into the customs and history of their countries. Also, to accomplish this aim, the club has various Spanish groups to perform at meetings. Traditionally the organization has a pinata party at Christmas. The members extend their interest to action by raising money to help underprivileged children in South America.

Proficiency and Service Goals for F.H.A.

For girls who desire proficiency in domestic skills the F.H.A. offers numerous opportunities. Besides improving their cooking and sewing talents, the F.H.A. girls contribute valuable time and efforts to the U.N.I.C.E.F. drives. Helping the mentally retarded children at the State School is another project of the F.H.A. organization. All of these activities endow the students with abilities and a sense of direction for their adult life.

Leads Students With Support for Broncos

Junior and Senior girls whose aim is to promote school spirit by raising the attendance at games and boosting enthusiasm at pep rallies make up the Bronco Pep Club. One of the Pep Club's major activities during the year is holding the annual banquet honoring the football boys and coaches at the conclusion of the season. The Pep Club this year has the highest membership it has ever known 150 girls.

During the football season, the club was able to attend all out-of-town games by traveling in school buses. The girls are responsible for selling programs at each of the home games. Although attendance at the games is mandatory, the spontaneous enthusiasm, which these girls show for the Broncos, serves as a catalyst for the rest of the student body.

Science Club Seeks Technical Knowledge

As an extracurricular organization, the Science Club serves as a source of knowledge for students pursuing the scientific field. Through regular meetings, Science Club members gain the opportunity of learning more about the general principles of an advancing field. Local and regional science fairs provide an opportunity for students to further their interest. One of the highlights of the organization is the talks that experienced guest speakers give concerning the different aspects of science.

School Publications Served by Photographers

Because of the expanded publications department of DHS, the duties of the photographers also enlarged. They serve both the Horseshoe and the Bronco as well as recording Student Council activities for the scrapbook. The photographers work either sixth or seventh period developing and printing pictures. However, they are called on to work whenever pictures should be made.

Don Roberson holds the responsibility of Head photographer. Along with taking most of the pictures, he must also train the beginning cameramen. At the A&M Publications Workshop he was recognized as Best Photographer in the Advanced Division.

Joe Cole adjusts the enlarger before beginning work. As darkroom technician, he does most of the developing and printing of pictures.

While examining one of the cameras they will utilize, David Down and Bryant Coleman consider the pictures they need to take.

National Charter Presented to Local Club

This is the first year that Denton has had a National Chapter of the Quill and Scroll. The members were initiated in a ceremony last spring. The ceremony also served to install the Denton organization into the National Association. The club consists of juniors and seniors who are in the upper third of their class and who are superior in some field of journalism. The members must be approved by the secretary-treasurer of the Society after being recommended by the supervisor of publications.

Sporting events never fail to liven the D.H.S. spirit. Whether in outdoor or indoor competition, action is the highlight of all of Denton's athletic events. The excitement and suspense of closely fought contests provide the spectator with unforgettable memories. Either in victory or defeat, the participants play their best and display ability throughout many brief, shining moments . . .

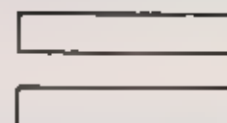

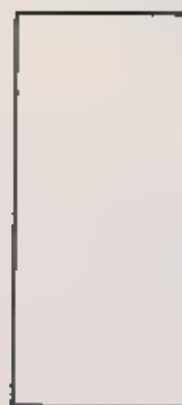

Sports Presents Time

Crowd participation adds to the spirit of all D.H.S. athletic events. In an important basketball game, the spectators cheer the Broncos on to a victory.

Senior letterman Mark Thomas, one of the top running backs for the Broncos, utilizes blocks from his teammates to pick up yardage. Through many exciting, close games, the Broncos finished with a 6-3-1 record, the most successful football season in many years

The Broncos opened their 1967 football season with three straight victories. After a loss to Tyler Lee, Denton bounced back with a decisive win over W. T. White. The Broncos then entered 7-4A District play, facing one of the toughest zones in the state. With a defeat over Denison and a Homecoming tie with Sherman, Denton finished 1-2-1 in the North Zone. Adding a defeat over Mesquite, the Broncos ended the season with a 6-3-1 record. The team and coaches deserve congratulation for a season unequaled since 1949.

TYLER LEE—A long pass sails over the head of a Tyler Lee defender and into the waiting arms of Leonard Jones (43). Lee led at the half 17-0, but the Broncos rallied in the third quarter to score 15 points. An unexpected two-point conversion ended the Bronco scoring series. The Broncos received their first defeat of the season from Tyler Lee 30-15.

MESQUITE—Mark Thomas (33) picks up yardage as the Broncos drive for a touchdown. Thomas scored twice in an exciting see-saw battle with Mesquite. Denton led 6-0 until the fourth period, when Mesquite went ahead 7-6. The Broncos took the lead again when Thomas scored on a 69 yard pass. Another Skeeter TD tied the contest 13-13, but a last minute effort by Denton and a pass to Thomas were good for the winning 20-13 score.

Minute 6-0 in Muddy Contest

The season appeared as if it might be an unnerving one for the Broncos. After a last minute victory over Adamson, Denton met the MacArthur Cardinals. A muddy field proved to be a major factor in the contest, and the teams battled to a 0-0 tie into the fourth period. Then with only 13 seconds left, Don Woods connected with Leonard Jones for a TD. The game ended in a hard-earned 6-0 win for the Broncos.

MACARTHUR—On an extremely wet and slippery field, Leonard Jones cuts sharply to receive a pass. With 13 seconds left in the game with Irving MacArthur, Jones took a pass from Don Woods for a TD, and the thriller ended in a 6-0 victory over the Cardinals.

ADAMSON—A wall of Bronco defenders stop Adamson for short yardage. Assisting on the tackle are Glendon McWhorter (7), Earl Nuckles (37), and David Walker (22). Denton took a second quarter lead over Adamson 6-0. In the fourth period the Leopards led 7-6, but Mark Thomas scored with 1:20 left to defeat Adamson in the season opener 13-7.

W. T. WHITE—Intercepting a pass, James Parks (54) scampers between surprised W T White players. This interception, one of four for the game, set up Denton's third touchdown. After their three game winning streak was broken by Tyler Lee, the Broncos bounced back with a decisive 20-6 victory over White.

Exciting Homecoming Clash

Leonard Jones anxiously awaits a pass.

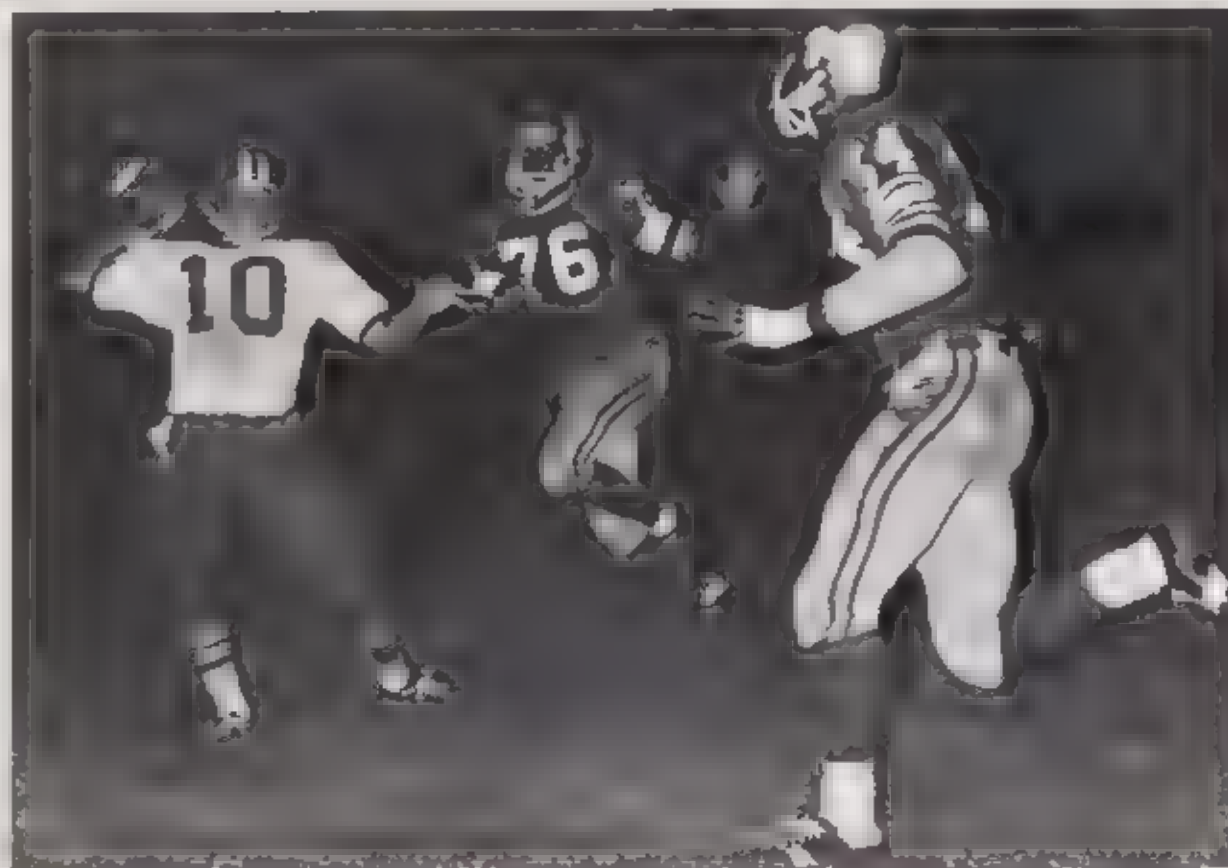

SHERMAN—Quarterback Mark Morrow (5) dives through the Sherman line for a short gain. Morrow later stunned the Bearcat defense by breaking ten tackles and running 40 yards to set up the tying points. With 3:10 left in the game, Morrow's TD brought Denton within two points of Sherman, 14-12. Randy Groves took a pass from Glendon McWhorter on the conversion to tie Sherman 14-14.

SOUTH GARLAND—Attempting to pass, South Garland's quarterback finds himself in a strong rush from James Parks (54) and Dan Hurd (76). In the district opener, South Garland scored a touchdown a quarter, but the Broncos could not get on the scoreboard. The 27-0 defeat to the Colonels was the only scoreless game for the Broncos all season.

Denison Upset Tops District Play

DENISON—A Denison Yellow Jacket collides into a waiting Mike Gaines (25) in his impressive defensive efforts against Denison. Gaines helped to break up Denison's conversion attempt, which was the difference in the game. The Broncos upset the Yellow Jackets with a 7-6 victory.

The tables were turned on Denison in Denton's second district game. The Broncos took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. Denison scored in the second period, but a crucial two-point conversion attempt failed. Neither team scored again and the Broncos held a 7-6 victory, the same score by which Denison won last year. This was also the first district victory for Denton in three years.

PARIS—Junior fullback Randy Groves takes a short breather during the Paris game to have his eye examined by Coach Bill Peteet. The Wildcats took an early lead, which they held throughout the game. Touchdowns in the second and third periods gave Denton 12 points, and 8 points resulted from a last minute 91 yard run by Don Woods. The 47-20 loss to Paris ended a successful 6-3-1 season for the Broncos.

1968 Bi-District Victors

The defending district champs, the Broncos entered the basketball season prepared for some stiff competition. Consequently, D.H.S. saw one of the most thrilling seasons in years. Exciting non-district games readied the Broncos for the battle in the North Zone. Through overtimes and too many close games, Denton came out on top in the North Zone. Taking the best of three series with Garland, Denton won District for the second straight year. Then Denton defeated Lufkin for the bi-district title. Only one game away from the state finals, the Broncos were defeated by Thomas Jefferson, ending a rewarding season for Denton.

Charging through for two points is Clyde Chrisman (11). The Broncos their season against L.D. Bell with a decisive 62-47 victory. It was the beginning of a long season for Denton Flying in for two points, Jody Bass (23) shows Paris his outstanding agility. Denton and Paris played a close game from start to finish, Denton led at the half 27-26. But Paris gained momentum in the last period to edge the Broncos 56-55.

Overtimes, Close Games Pave

Glenn Weaver (34) attempts a shot during overtime action with South Garland. Regular play with the Colonels ended in a 42-42 tie. The first overtime also ended in a deadlock, 44-44. Neither team scored in the next three minutes, and the game went to a third overtime. With South Garland leading 49-48 and only three seconds left, Weaver sank a lay-up to complete the thriller 50-49.

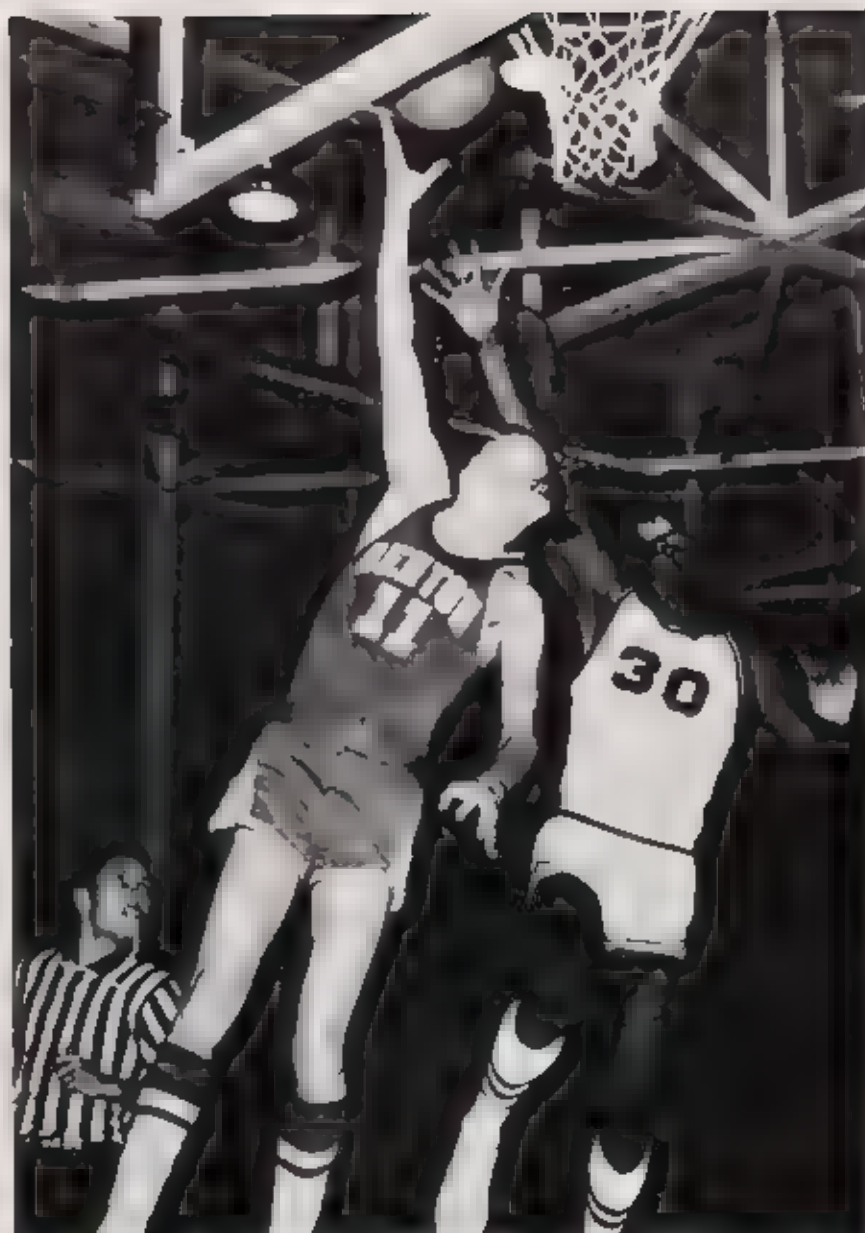

Jody Bass (22) attempts a long jumper. Bass had an impressive evening against Sherman, scoring 24 points in the game. In their first meeting of the season, Denton nipped the Bearcats 61-59. But a hot night for the Broncos closed the second contest in a 71-45 romp.

Road to North Zone Title

Greg Williamson (43), finding an opening in the Texan defense, attempts a short jumper in this non-district game, Arlington Houston defeated Denton 72-57, but the Broncos later evened the score with a 69-62 victory over Sam Houston.

Clyde Chrisman (11) puts in a lay-up as the Broncos edge past Denison for the North Zone title. Denton trailed at half time 27-24, but a fast-moving second half gave the Broncos a 59-49 win over the Yellow Jackets. With the victory, Denton earned the North Zone Championship and the right to compete for the District title.

Taking his time in the closing minutes of the game, Jody Bass (22) carefully penetrates the Paris defense. Already down one game to Paris, the Broncos avenged the loss by upsetting the Wildcats 48-46. The victory placed Denton in a tie for North Zone Championship.

Broncos Defeat Garland for 7-4A

Greg Williamson (43) and Glenn Weaver (35) have their own private battle for a rebound in an attempt to keep the ball under Denton's basket. Coming into the second half trailing 38-20, the Broncos outscored Garland 33-25, but the Owls first half margin was sufficient for a victory. The 63-53 defeat at Moody Coliseum evened the series at one game apiece.

Ed Killian (32) is fouled as he attempts a shot. Denton and Garland met at the Men's Gym for the opener of the three game series. A see-saw first half ended with Denton trailing 29-23, but a third quarter rally tied the score 33-33. In the last minute of the game, Garland cut the Bronco lead from 48-45 to 48-47, then Gary Morris sank a free shot for insurance and a 49-47 final score.

District Crown in Three Game Series

Height doesn't stop Jody Bass (22), who goes airborne for a lay-up. In the final meeting for the district title, the Owls kept a small lead during most of the game, but many fouls and a hot fourth quarter for Denton cost Garland the game 40-38. The Broncos became the district champs for the second straight year.

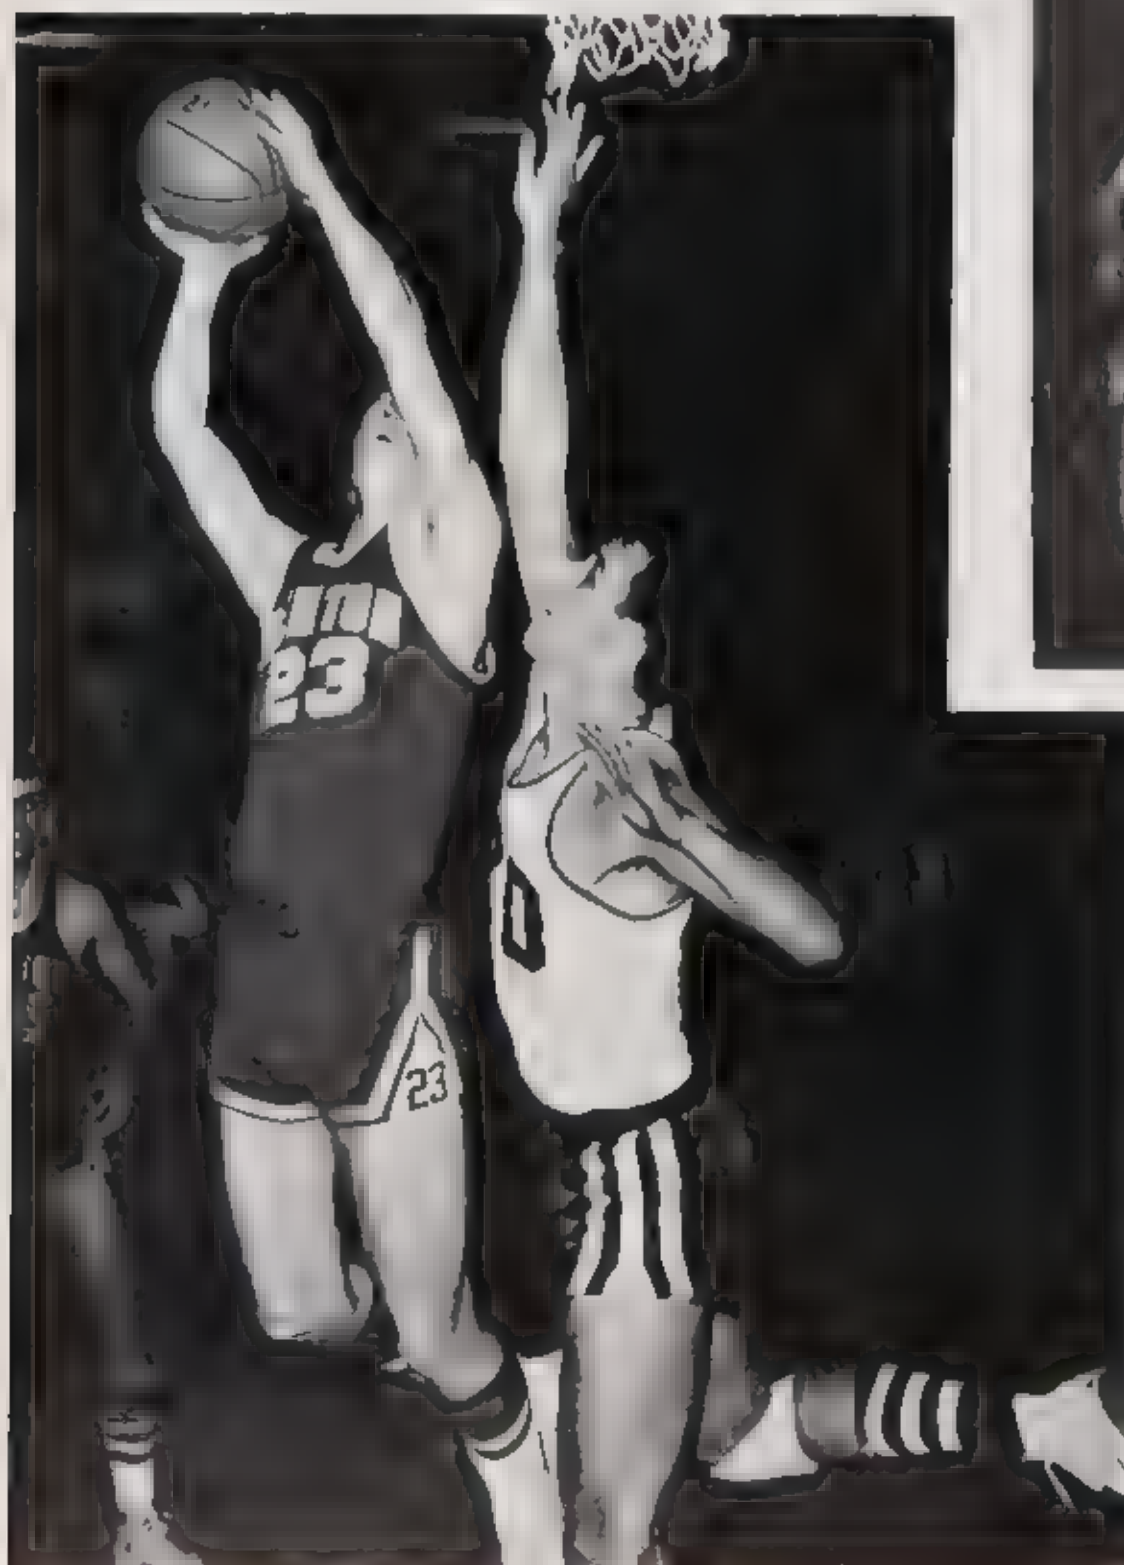

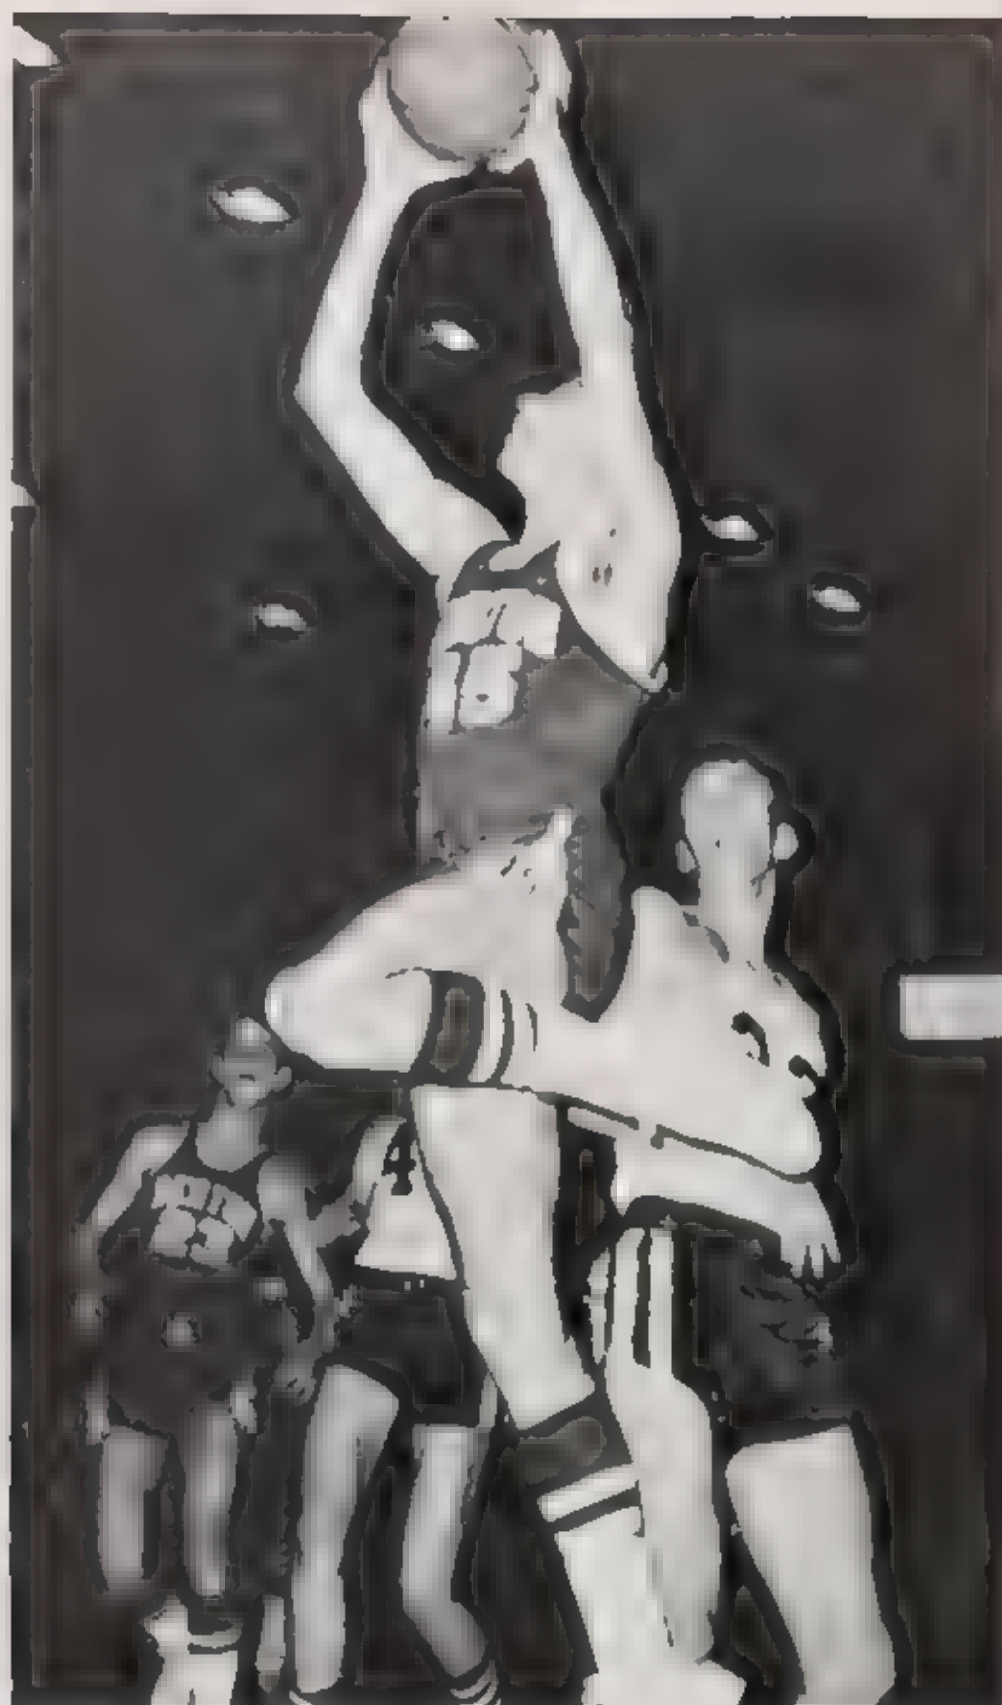

Gary Morris (44) drives in for a jump shot. The Broncos, who lost the District title to Garland two years ago, gained the 7-4A crown by defeating the Owls 40-38 in the Men's Gym.

Broncos Defeat Lufkin for Bi-District

Clear under the basket, Gary Morris (45) aims for two points. Morris topped the Bronco scoring attack with 17 points. With a half-time lead of 34-25, Denton held good control of the game. In the fourth period, Lufkin came within one point, 49-48, but a sudden surge of fouls gave the Broncos a more comfortable lead. The Broncos became bi-district champions by defeating Lufkin 65-58.

Jody Bass (23) goes in for a lay-up despite a blocking attempt by a Lufkin player. With a 63-58 win over the Panthers in Kilgore, Denton advanced to the regional play-offs with Thomas Jefferson.

TJ Shatters Hopes for State

Gary Morris (45) works his way under the basket for a shot. The underdog Denton team played an outstanding game against the T.J. Rebels; the score at halftime was 29-26, Denton trailing by only three. T.J. began to pull away in the second half, however, to increase the lead. The Broncos began to catch up in the fourth quarter, but the Rebels took the game 65-50.

Glenn Weaver (35) outjumps a T.J. defender in a two point attempt. Along with speed, height was a controlling factor in the game. The smaller Denton squad pulled in more rebounds however, having 34 to T.J.'s 33. The 65-60 defeat to the Rebels at Loos Fieldhouse was an exciting end to a successful season for the Broncos.

New Courts Give Advantage to Tennis Team

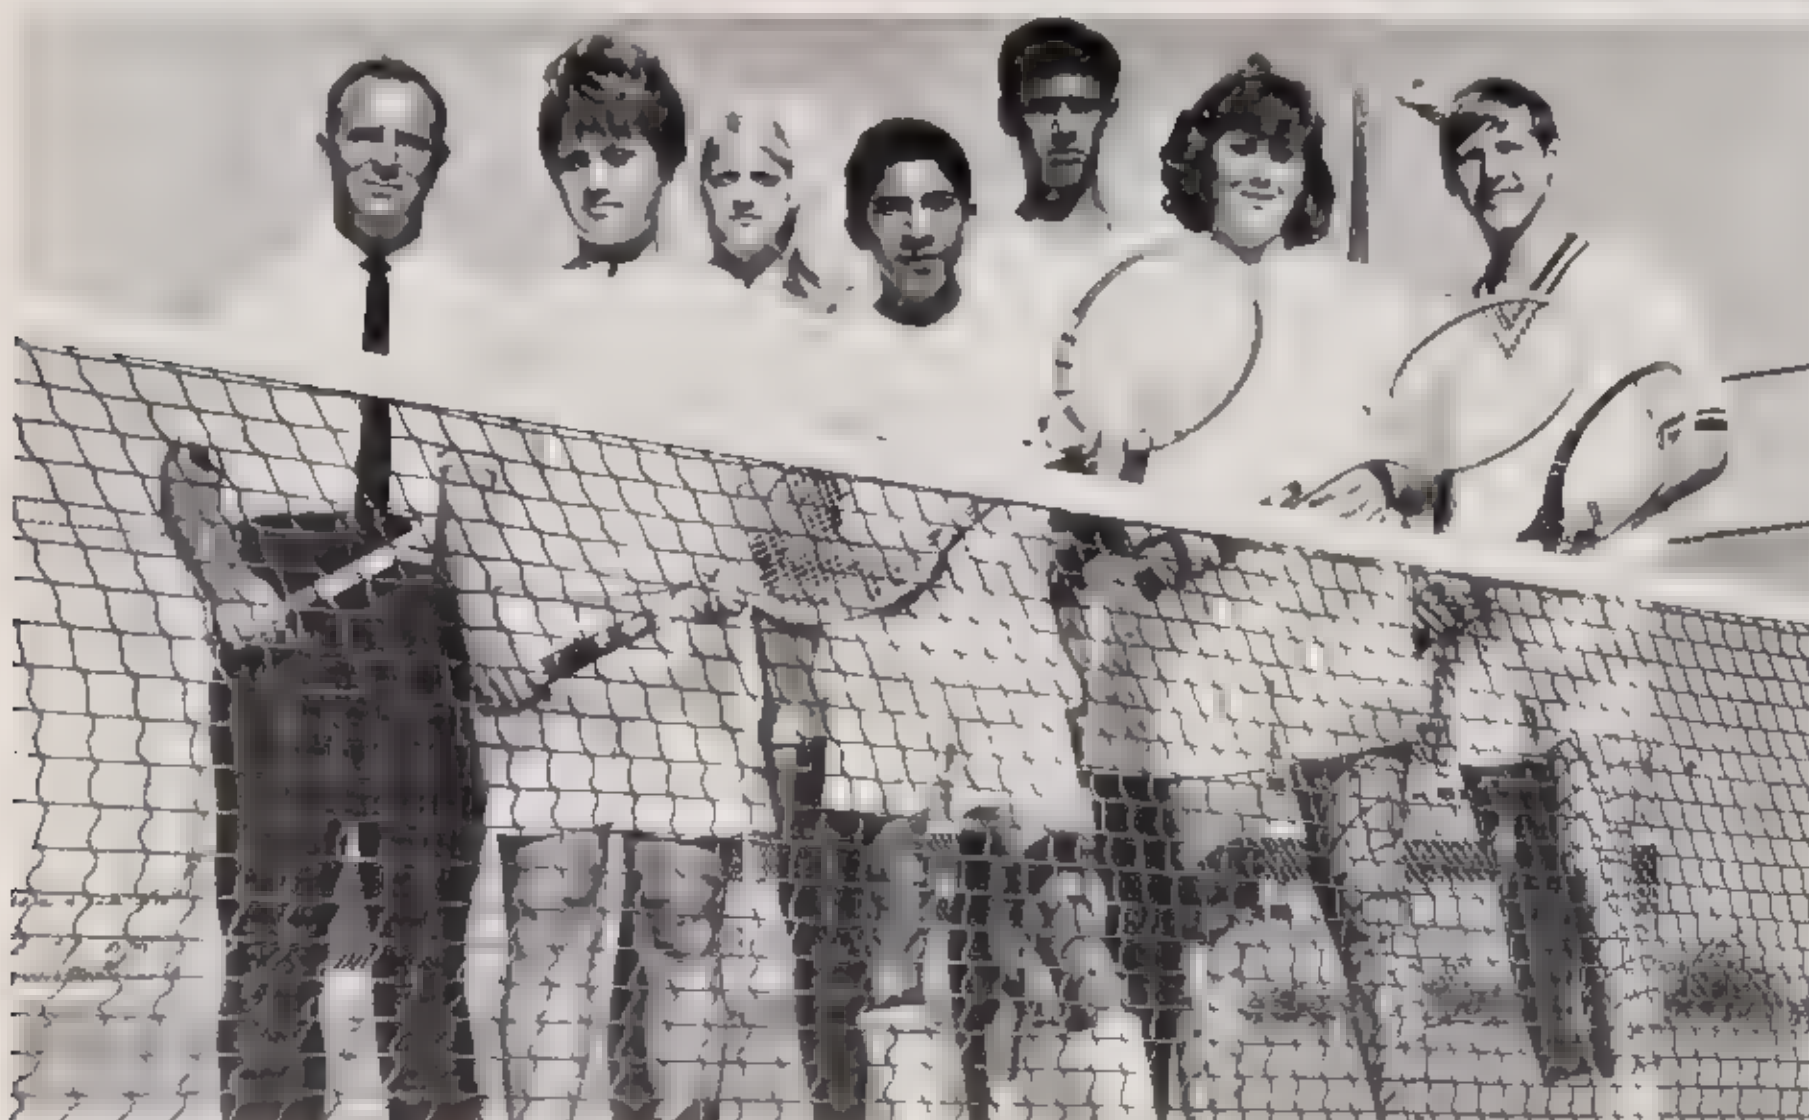

During an afternoon practice, Coach Lane and Sara Leith serve balls to Cindy Kittrell and Carol Morrison, foreground, who work on their returns.

For the first time this year, the Tennis Team began preparation for spring matches in September and worked until December. Their biggest fall project was a ten-week, eight-team round robin tournament, with participating schools mainly from the Dallas area. With new lacold courts as an extra advantage, the team practiced diligently on their net game, volleying and service.

Temo Hernandez works close to the net to play a short serve.

Chip,

I had never met you before this year in Government. I've enjoyed knowing you for this short period of time, but I'll never forgive you for that missing point on my grade ~~all~~ because you made me say "shut-up." You are a smart person and I know you'll do well in college if you'll take notes!
Maybe we'll see each other sometime this summer, I hope so!

Your friend
Quay Watson

Chip,

Well its been a long hard
year but sharing English, Government & Flame
has been OX Stay good and lots of luck to a just flam good ole guys!

Tom Knox

chip.

It's been fun for me
this year for the same strange reasons. But you and your government notes a very curious
100. Larry about desl's strange remark about the S.P.

Larry
Barry

Chip,
It's been great knowing you this year. Gov.
wouldn't have been the same with out your presidential arguments. Best of Luck in the future even though the G.O.P. won't win.

Best wishes

Paul Leslie
